Saturn 5 Orbits 140-Ton Spaceship

MONITORING HISTORIC FLIGHT. Apollo astronauts Walter (Wally) M. Schirra and Walter R. Cunningham (right) show happy expressions while monitoring, at the Miss Control Center in Houston, the successful launch of the Saturn 5 moon rocket from Cape Kennedy this morning. Schirra and Cunningham will make up two-thirds of the crew for the first manned Apollo mission. (UPI Telephoto)

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —America's Saturn 5 superrocket scored a resounding success on its maiden test flight today, orbiting a record 140-ton space vehicle and shooting the unmanned Apollo 4 moonship deep into space.

The historic flight gave this nation's man-in-space program a much-needed shot in the arm and revived hopes that U.S. astronauts can still land on the moon in this decade.

With a thundering burst of power, the most powerful rocket ever assembled blasted away from its launch pad at exactly 7 a.m. EST today after a perfect countdown — something that few people believed possible for such a complex machine.

The three stages of the monster Saturn 5 ignited with drill-like precision during an 11-minute boost phase and shoved the massive payload, including the still-attached third stage, into orbit 115 miles high.

Three hours later, after two orbits of the globe, the hydrogen powered third stage restarted its engine on ground command and propelled the 64,000-pound Apollo 4 vehicle outward toward a high point of 11,400 miles.

★ ★ ★ Buoys U.S. Moon Hopes ★ ★ ★

The reignition of the third stage gave flight controllers an anxious moment. A vent valve refused to respond to commands to close, until the last moment when it finally closed.

The spacecraft separated from the stage and a motor on board fired for 15 seconds to provide final power to reach the planned altitude. Had it burned a few seconds longer, Apollo 4 could have gone to the moon, but that was not planned for today's flight because of the need to test the heat shield on re-entry.

After reaching the 11,400-mile altitude, the spacecraft was to plunge back through the atmosphere at nearly 25,000 miles an hour—the speed at which astronauts will return from the moon. The fiery dive would determine how well the heat shield survives re-entry temperatures expected to reach 4,500 degrees.

Apollo 4 was to parachute to a landing in a rough Pacific Ocean, 622 miles northwest of Hawaii, at 3:41 p.m.

Of today's rocket, only the Apollo spacecraft was to come home to earth. The mammoth first stage fell apart, plunging into the Atlantic, although a chunk eight feet long was sighted in the sea. The second and third stages and the Apollo service module were consigned to destruction in fiery re-entries.

"It's been a flight almost incredibly free of any problems," commented a spokesman at NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., where the mission was being controlled.

An hour after the world's most powerful rocket blazed away from Cape Kennedy, the Apollo program manager, Air Force Maj. Gen. Samuel Phillips told newsmen:

"This mission will do a lot to get the whole Apollo team moving again on a positive course. It will do a lot for the progress in coming months of the Apollo program.

"Yesterday," Phillips said, "I would have said that I think we have a reasonably good chance of accomplishing a manned lunar landing by the end of 1969. Today, I think that reasonably good chance is maybe a notch above reasonably good."

The Apollo moon program has been lagging since three astronauts died in a spacecraft fire last January, on a pad not far from where the Saturn 5 started its historic flight.

Emblazoned on the brilliant white sides were the American flag and the letters USA.

Tens of thousands of observers throughout the Cape area watched awestruck, almost with disbelief, as the massive 36-story-tall rocket rode a pillar of fire more than 500 feet long across the sky and sent an unearthly howl rolling across the land.

The rocket's more than one million parts meshed, pulsed and interacted flawlessly, and all three stages—two of them never flown before—ignited like clockwork during the 11-minute boost phase to push the record satellite into orbit 115 miles above the earth.

Included in the weight of the orbiting craft are the Apollo 4 moon ship; a large metal dummy representing the Lunar Module that two astronauts one day will ride to the surface of the moon, and the still-attached third stage of the Saturn 5.

The previous record-holder was another Apollo craft and attached rocket stage which weighed 58,537 pounds. They were launched in 1966 by a smaller Saturn 1 rocket. The heaviest payload orbited by the Russians was the 26,900-pound Proton 2 satellite launched in 1965.

U.S. Troops Battle Back Against Reds

'Severe Setback' Suffered By Foe, General Declares

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen battled back today against new attacks from tough North Vietnamese regulars entrenched in the central highlands near Dak To. Gen. William C. Westmoreland said seven days of fighting in the area near Dak To has resulted in a "severe setback" for the Communists.

Initial field reports said American soldiers killed three more Communist troops in a two and a half hour skirmish today, while one more U.S. soldier was killed. This raised total casualties for the week in the area to 209 Communists and 45 Americans killed and 130 Americans wounded, the U.S. Command said.

Westmoreland flew to Dak To for a first-hand survey and on his return told newsmen in Saigon: "I believe the Communist forces have suffered a severe setback in their plans for operating in the Dak To area. The recent contact is a North Vietnamese attempt to recoup valuable propaganda lost during the recent Republic of Vietnam elections and National Day."

Other officers believed the upsurge of activity and the determined Communist resistance in the central highlands could be the prelude to a new Communist offensive there now that the monsoons have moved north.

The air war against North Vietnam cost the United States three Air Force planes and two fliers Wednesday, the U.S. Command announced, including an F4 Phantom downed by a Communist MIG21's air-to-air missile in a dogfight west of Hanoi.

This brought total losses in the North Tuesday and Wednesday to five planes and five fliers and raised to 732 the total number of American combat planes officially reported lost in the northern aerial war.

Vice President Reports On Trip

Fulbright And Humphrey Clash Over Asian Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey reportedly clashed verbally over administration aims in Southeast Asia at a White House briefing on Vietnam.

Humphrey reported Wednesday to President Johnson, Cabinet, Security Council members and lawmakers of both parties on his Southeast Asia survey trip at a session in which attending Senate and House members were allowed one question each.

In the course of this round-robin, Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is said to have contended the administration is taking conflicting positions on what it is trying to accomplish in Vietnam.

A persistent war policy critic, Fulbright reportedly cited the statements of U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg that the United States is fighting to insure the right of the South Vietnamese to political self determination.

On the other hand, Fulbright reportedly said, Humphrey's recent statements have supported a thesis Johnson has laid down in recent utterances—that the real enemy is aggressive Asain communism, headquartered in Red China.

Fulbright has said a policy of containing Chinese Communist expansion implies permanent U.S. occupation of parts of Southeast Asia instead of relatively early withdrawal of American military forces after a negotiated end to the war.

After reciting this premise, the Arkansas senator was said to have asked Humphrey: "Just who is our enemy there?"

"You don't have to ask the GI whose leg has been cut off who the enemy is," Humphrey was quoted as replying.

Fulbright got no chance to pursue the issue further when the questioning round passed to another.

Fulbright would not comment on the exchange except to say Humphrey gave a report "intended to convey the impression that things are going well in Vietnam." Humphrey did not discuss the meeting with newsmen.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said in an interview that despite the vice president's optimistic predictions there appears to be no end n sight for the war.

He said Humphrey expressed confidence that the switch from military to civilian government will bring about a regime more responsble to the South Vietnamese people.

"He indicated that more can be expected in reform, rehabilitation and reconstruction," Mansfield said. "But the chief obstacles remain. The road ahead is long and rocky and as of the moment there appears to be no end in sight for the war."

3-Year Pact Announced At Chrysler

Much Of Operations Down When Some Workers Jump Gun

DETROIT (AP) — Much of Chrysler Corp.'s car and truck building operations remained idle today despite a new, three-year contract worked out Wednesday night in a final 34-hour bargaining session.

The United Auto Workers union and Chrysler reached tentative agreement on the new pact which will cover some 95,000 of Chrysler's 103,000 UAW members.

UAW president Walter P. Reuther predicted it would take a couple of days to get Chrysler back to near normal production.

Some Chrysler-UAW units jumped the gun Wednesday and staged local walkouts in advance of the UAW designated strike deadline of last midnight.

When the contract agreement was reached about four hours before the strike hour, UAW leaders sent word to their members to stay on the jobs.

A check by Chrysler early today showed a number of its plants closed, either because of worker absenteeism, parts shortages or picket lines.

"We have no idea how many men are out or just how many plants are involved for the situation changes every hour," a Chrysler spokesman said.

Negotiators were too weary Wednesday night to continue bargaining on contract provisions covering 8,000 salaried workers the UAW represents at Chrysler, but spokesman said they hoped to have these problems solved by the weekend.

The corporation's car production sagged by 64 per cent and truck output was completely stopped by the walkouts, which lingered on today.

Provided Answers, Posed New Questions

Democrats, GOP Claim Comfort After Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans both claim comfort in the outcome of Tuesday's off-year elections-balloting which provided answers but also posed new questions about the mood of the electorate one year before the contest for the White House.

Chief among cthe questions was the 1968 potency of the so-called white backlash vote, defeated—but by tiny margins—with the election of Negro mayors in Cleveland and in Gary, Ind.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey said those victories for Negro Democrats, coupled with Boston's rejection of the controversial Louise Day Hicks, "put the so-called white backlash in its place."

That place did not appear an insignificant one—particularly with the approach of statewide elections in which big-city pluralities often are the decisive factor.

Another item for the political strategists: The potential impact next year of the war in Vietnam. San Francisco voters rejected a proposal urging a cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal and President Johnson's Democratic supporters called it evidence of growing support for his policy.

Republicans, on the other hand, raised the war issue in Kentucky and New Jersey and scored big victories.

Republican Sens. Thruston B. Morton and John Sherman Cooper said opposition to Johnsons stand contributed to the election of Louie B. Nunn as Kentucky's first GOP governor in two decades. New Jersey Republicans, who won control of the state legislature, said the same thing.

Negro Democrat Carl B. Stokes was elected mayor of Cleveland with 129,829 votes to 127,328 for his white, Republican opponent, Seth C. Taft.

Cleveland's voter registration is Democratic by a 10 to 1 margin. Stokes got virtually all the Cleveland Negro vote and about 20 per cent of the white ballots.

Ray C. Bliss, Republican national chairman, boasted of sharp reductions in Democratic majorities in some big cities, noting that the last GOP nominee in Cleveland got only 17 per cent of the vote. But that party-line analysis ignored the racial factor.

Stokes could become a featured Democratic performer, particularly in Negro areas, during the 1968 election campaign. And Cleveland could be crucial in determining which party wins Ohio's electoral votes.

In Gary, Negro Richard G. Hatcher won by 1,389 votes, but his Republican rival, Joseph Radigan, challenged the victory with charges of voting irregularities.

Kevin H. White, Massachusetts secretary of state, was elected mayor of Boston by 102,551 votes to 90,122 for Mrs. Hicks in another close contest marked by racial dispute.

Mrs. Hicks stirred controversy with her total opposition to the transportation of Negro children to white neighborhood schools for the sake of racial balance. White carried predominantly Negro neighborhoods by a margin of about 3 to 1.

Scanning the outcome, in which a Negro was elected to the Virginia Legislature and another won in Mississippi, Whitney M. Young Jr., director of the National Urban League, said: "While the backlash is there, it is not as powerful as the demagogues would have us believe."

There were other Negro victories—six for Mississippi county offices, one to the Boston City Council, others to local posts scattered from New England to the South.

Parade In Morning, Dinner At Night

Program Completed Here For Veterans Day Events

Roger H. Myers Jr. of Worthington, finance officer of the Ohio American Legion, will be the speaker at the Veterans City Council's fourth annual Veterans Day banquet Saturday at 7 at the Travelers Hotel.

Plans for the observance were completed at a meeting of the council Wednesday night at City Hall.

Mrs. Mary Wines, secretary, presided in the absence of James Cregar, president.

Cregar said those wishing to make reservations for the dinner are to contact the hotel by Saturday morning.

As a member of the state headquarters staff in Columbus, Myers is responsible for handling the finances of the state organization, representing over 115,000 veterans. He has held his present office since November 1962.

An Army veteran of four years during World War II, he spent two years as a mess sergeant in the European theater, primarily with the Army Graves Registration Services Headquarters in Paris. Following his discharge in 1946, he joined Columbus Post 98 of the Legion and at one time belonged to the Dayton Post 5. Currently he is a member of Worthington Post 239.

Myers attended Columbus West High School and later received a degree in business administration from Sinclair College, Dayton. Prior to joining the Legion headquarters staff, he was office manager for a Dayton painting contractor for five years and then held a similar position for 11 years with a bakery.

ROGER H. MYERS JR.
Saturday Night Speaker.

Myers is a member of an all-Legion family. His late father was a past commander of the Legion's 12th District (Franklin County); his mother, a past president of the district's auxiliary; his wife and three daughters are members of Auxiliary 98 and Junior Auxiliary 98 at Columbus and his son is a member of the Sons of the American Legion Squadron 239 at Worthington.

Courthouse To Close

LISBON — The Columbiana County Courthouse will be closed Friday and Saturday in observance of Veterans Day.

2 Men Hurt In Irondale Area Mishap

Two Irondale area motorists were injured Wednesday night when their cars collided on Jefferson County Rd. 55 on the Irondale hill, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville reported.

Clarence Call, 69, of Irondale and Ronald E. Williamson, 25, of Irondale RD 1 were treated at City Hospital following the mishap at 7 p. m.

Officers said Call, headed west uphill in a 1960 compact, made a left turn into the path of Williamson's approaching 1965 sports auto, and the two cars collided.

The impact knocked Call's auto 20 feet backward and off the south side of the highway into guardrails. He suffered a laceration of the forehead, and Williamson received a fractured wrist.

Call was charged with making an improper turn. His car was demolished and Williamson's received damage to the entire front and right side, officers said.

Congress Sends LBJ Foreign Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received from Congress a foreign aid authorization bill $730 million less than the amount he sought.

The Senate sent a compromise version to the White House by voice vote Wednesday. The House barely rejected a proposal that the measure be returned to a conference to include a provision banning aid to nations trading with North Vietnam.

State May End Case

By PAUL YOUNG
Review Staff Writer

LISBON — Details of a one-car crash May 26 that took the life of Jerry Canne, 17, formerly of 143 Thomspon Ave., were related to a Common Pleas Court jury this morning.

The witness was Cpl. Samuel L. Smith of Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon who arrived at the crash scene on Grimms Bridge Rd. at approximately 8:30 p. m.

He said the accident occurred four - tenths of a mile down stream from the bridge. He found a black 1966 Volkswagen parked partly on, partly off the south side of the road and pointed northeast.

The ambulance crew was loading two youths. He said he learned later they were Canne and Ronald Wine, 18, of 951 Huston Ave.

PREVIOUS testimony established they were passengers in the rear of the Volkswagen which had struck rocks and a tree on the opposite side of the road, and that the car was driven by Daryl Lee Jackson, 18, of 1068 Jennings Ave. He is on trial on a charge of traffic manslaughter. The prosecution claims the accident was the result of speed and reckless operation.

Jackson and another passenger, Thomas Standley, 18, of 306 Vine St., were injured.

The youths were returning from an East Liverpool High School senior class party along the creek a mile or so downstream from the bridge. Some

Cunningham Freed On 2nd Stickup Case

An indecisive eyewitness today brought about dismissal of the second charge which police had filed against a 19-year-old defendant in connection with armed robberies of a Klondyke diner and an East End grocery Oct. 9.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, acting on the motion of Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, dismissed the affidavit in which David Cunningham of 114 E. 2nd St. was accused of a $231 holdup at the Ohnezeit Grocery on Pennsylvania Ave.

The prosecution's major witness was Mrs. June Burgess of 703 Avondale St., the clerk who was held up. Clark informed the judge Nov. 2 at an earlier hearing that Mrs. Burgess was no longer "100 per cent sure" of her identification of Cunningham as the holdup man.

A short time later, she was questioned by the judge, telling him she was "positive" of the identification. The court then

Official Count Begins On Returns In Election

The County Election Board met this morning at its office on W. 6th St. to begin the official canvass of returns from Tuesday's general election, expecting the task will be finished Friday.

The tabulation completed Tuesday night shortly after the polls closed was complete, but unofficial. The official canvass produces the figure which are certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, said the canvass got under way about 8:30 a. m.

East Liverpool's attention will center on a race for Council president in which Norman Bucher, a Democrat and now a member - at - large, apparently defeated Ernest Lowe, the Republican incumbent, by an 18-vote margin.

Yankee Thrift Pays Off

BOSTON (AP) — Don't tell William Shriberg that his Yankee thrift didn't pay off. For more than 30 years he saved his children's outgrown shoes.

The 300 pairs of shoes, hung from nails in the attic of his home in suburban Newton, came to public attention when the Boston Globe published a story about them.

"After that we had many, many telephone calls asking for the shoes," Mrs. Shriberg said Wednesday. "Finally, a doctor called and said the shoes were needed at Fernald School for retarded children."

A use for the shoes was found just in time. With their four children now aged 21-33, the Shribergs have moved to an apartment.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —America's Saturn 5 superrocket scored a resounding success on its maiden test flight today, orbiting a record 140-ton space vehicle and shooting the unmanned Apollo 4 moonship deep into space.

A check by Chrysler early today showed a number of its plants closed, either because of worker absenteeism, parts shortages or picket lines.

"We have no idea how many men are out or just how many plants are involved for the situation changes every hour," a Chrysler spokesman said.

Negotiators were too weary Wednesday night to continue bargaining on contract provisions covering 8,000 salaried workers the UAW represents at Chrysler, but spokesman said they hoped to have these problems solved by the weekend.

The corporation's car production sagged by 64 per cent and truck output was completely stopped by the walkouts, which lingered on today.

By PAUL YOUNG
Review Staff Writer

LISBON — Details of a one-car crash May 26 that took the life of Jerry Canne, 17, formerly of 143 Thomspon Ave., were related to a Common Pleas Court jury this morning.

The witness was Cpl. Samuel L. Smith of Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon who arrived at the crash scene on Grimms Bridge Rd. at approximately 8:30 p. m.

He said the accident occurred four - tenths of a mile down stream from the bridge. He found a black 1966 Volkswagen parked partly on, partly off the south side of the road and pointed northeast.

The ambulance crew was loading two youths. He said he learned later they were Canne and Ronald Wine, 18, of 951 Huston Ave.

PREVIOUS testimony established they were passengers in the rear of the Volkswagen which had struck rocks and a tree on the opposite side of the road, and that the car was driven by Daryl Lee Jackson, 18, of 1068 Jennings Ave. He is on trial on a charge of traffic manslaughter. The prosecution claims the accident was the result of speed and reckless operation.

Jackson and another passenger, Thomas Standley, 18, of 306 Vine St., were injured.

The youths were returning from an East Liverpool High School senior class party along the creek a mile or so downstream from the bridge. Some

Mild Weather's Due To Continue Friday

Cunningham Freed On 2nd Stickup Case

An indecisive eyewitness today brought about dismissal of the second charge which police had filed against a 19-year-old defendant in connection with armed robberies of a Klondyke diner and an East End grocery Oct. 9.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, acting on the motion of Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, dismissed the affidavit in which David Cunningham of 114 E. 2nd St. was accused of a $231 holdup at the Ohnezeit Grocery on Pennsylvania Ave.

The prosecution's major witness was Mrs. June Burgess of 703 Avondale St., the clerk who was held up. Clark informed the judge Nov. 2 at an earlier hearing that Mrs. Burgess was no longer "100 per cent sure" of her identification of Cunningham as the holdup man.

A short time later, she was questioned by the judge, telling him she was "positive" of the identification. The court then

Official Count Begins On Returns In Election

The County Election Board met this morning at its office on W. 6th St. to begin the official canvass of returns from Tuesday's general election, expecting the task will be finished Friday.

The tabulation completed Tuesday night shortly after the polls closed was complete, but unofficial. The official canvass produces the figure which are certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, said the canvass got under way about 8:30 a. m.

East Liverpool's attention will center on a race for Council president in which Norman Bucher, a Democrat and now a member - at - large, apparently defeated Ernest Lowe, the Republican incumbent, by an 18-vote margin.

Parade In Morning, Dinner At Night

Program Completed Here For Veterans Day Events

Roger H. Myers Jr. of Worthington, finance officer of the Ohio American Legion, will be the speaker at the Veterans City Council's fourth annual Veterans Day banquet Saturday at 7 at the Travelers Hotel.

Plans for the observance were completed at a meeting of the council Wednesday night at City Hall.

Mrs. Mary Wines, secretary, presided in the absence of James Cregar, president.

Cregar said those wishing to make reservations for the dinner are to contact the hotel by Saturday morning.

As a member of the state headquarters staff in Columbus, Myers is responsible for handling the finances of the state organization, representing over 115,000 veterans. He has held his present office since November 1962.

An Army veteran of four years during World War II, he spent two years as a mess sergeant in the European theater, primarily with the Army Graves Registration Services Headquarters in Paris. Following his discharge in 1946, he joined Columbus Post 98 of the Legion and at one time belonged to the Dayton Post 5. Currently he is a member of Worthington Post 239.

Myers attended Columbus West High School and later received a degree in business administration from Sinclair College, Dayton. Prior to joining the Legion headquarters staff, he was office manager for a Dayton painting contractor for five years and then held a similar position for 11 years with a bakery.

ROGER H. MYERS JR.
Saturday Night Speaker.

Myers is a member of an all-Legion family. His late father was a past commander of the Legion's 12th District (Franklin County); his mother, a past president of the district's auxiliary; his wife and three daughters are members of Auxiliary 98 and Junior Auxiliary 98 at Columbus and his son is a member of the Sons of the American Legion Squadron 239 at Worthington.

2 Men Hurt In Irondale Area Mishap

Two Irondale area motorists were injured Wednesday night when their cars collided on Jefferson County Rd. 55 on the Irondale hill, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville reported.

Clarence Call, 69, of Irondale and Ronald E. Williamson, 25, of Irondale RD 1 were treated at City Hospital following the mishap at 7 p. m.

Officers said Call, headed west uphill in a 1960 compact, made a left turn into the path of Williamson's approaching 1965 sports auto, and the two cars collided.

The impact knocked Call's auto 20 feet backward and off the south side of the highway into guardrails. He suffered a laceration of the forehead, and Williamson received a fractured wrist.

Call was charged with making an improper turn. His car was demolished and Williamson's received damage to the entire front and right side, officers said.

Congress Sends LBJ Foreign Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received from Congress a foreign aid authorization bill $730 million less than the amount he sought.

The Senate sent a compromise version to the White House by voice vote Wednesday. The House barely rejected a proposal that the measure be returned to a conference to include a provision banning aid to nations trading with North Vietnam.

Yankee Thrift Pays Off

BOSTON (AP) — Don't tell William Shriberg that his Yankee thrift didn't pay off. For more than 30 years he saved his children's outgrown shoes.

The 300 pairs of shoes, hung from nails in the attic of his home in suburban Newton, came to public attention when the Boston Globe published a story about them.

"After that we had many, many telephone calls asking for the shoes," Mrs. Shriberg said Wednesday. "Finally, a doctor called and said the shoes were needed at Fernald School for retarded children."

A use for the shoes was found just in time. With their four children now aged 21-33, the Shribergs have moved to an apartment.

Utility Shows Disposition Of Tax Dollars

The Ohio Power Co.'s property tax payments for 1966 totaled $130,153 in Columbiana County, W. S. Welday, manager of the Steubenville Division, announced today in an annual report.

The payments in Jefferson County totaled $1,330,000, the largest amount to any county. Welday pointed out the presence of the Cardinal and Tidd power plants was primarily responsible.

Welday said that Ohio Power tax bills in other Eastern Ohio counties included: Stark, $790,000; Tuscarawas, $237,568; Belmont, $200,418; Guernsey, $131,000; Carroll, $116,813; Monroe, $81,680; Noble, $76,000, and Harrison, $68,278.

One other Ohio county — Morgan, site of the Muskingum River power plant — received in excess of $1,000,000 this year.

Muskingum County, site of the Philo Plant, received $891,550; Stark County, in which the company's general offices and Canton Division headquarters are located, ranked fourth, and Allen County, location of Lima Division headquarters, received nearly $500,000. Top payment in West Virginia was $639,186 to Mason County, where the Philip Sporn Plant is located.

Eighteen Ohio counties and one in West Virginia were paid amounts between $100,000 and $500,000, 11 counties received more than $50,000 and 16 others received payments between $10,000 and $50,000.

Taxes constitute Ohio Power's largest item of expense, with approximately 20 cents of every dollar of revenue going for that purpose.

Ohio Power this year is spending $35,155,000 to pay its local, state and federal tax bills for 1966.

Projects Study Planned By PTA

Samuel Linger, vice president and principal of the Hillcrest - Fairview School, was appointed to study projects for the PTA when an executive meeting was held Tuesday night at the home of Paul Rassbach, president, on the Wells Hollow Rd., Wellsville.

The group decided to hold regular executive meetings the first Tuesday of each month at the president's home.

Rassbach announced the Walt Disney film "'Steel and America," starring Donald Duck, has been obtained for the program for the monthly meeting tonight at 7:45.

Babysitters will be available for the meeting.

Construction Slated On Ohio Covered Span

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Highway Department announced Wednesday the proposed construction of the state's first covered bridge in 47 years.

The bridge, costing $131,000, will span the Mohican River, in the Mohican Forest area of Ashland County.

Toledo Next Stop In Ohio For Wallace

The former governor of Alabama is on a seven-day, six-city tour of Ohio testing support for a larger campaign if he becomes a candidate for president.

A crowd of perhaps 1,500 persons turned out in freezing weather for his 30-minute speech at the National Guard Armory Wednesday night. About 50 persons carried anti-Wallace signs and picketed in front of the armory before the speech. They put aside their signs and went into the armory for Wallace's talk.

The picket group booed Wallace several times but the majority of the audience usually gives enough applause to drown out at calls.

Wallace said in his remarks that it is difficult to get on presidential ballots in Ohio and California, a state he toured last week, and said "I am not an announced candidate yet."

He said he is "waiting to see what the two major national parties are going to do" about a candidate and "at the moment it doesn't look like they are going to give the public a choice.

Wallace was elected Alabama governor as a Democrat but has talked in terms of mounting a third-party presidential campaign.

Mimeographed slips of paper were passed out to the audience soliciting support for a nominating petition.

Petitions needed to have Wallace listed on Ohio ballots would require about 444,000 valid signatures—15 per cent of the total number of votes cast for governor in the last general electin.

The Wallace schedule calls for speeches at Cleveland on Friday, Dayton next Monday, Columbus Tuesday and Cincinnati on Wednesday.

Legion Post 374 Given Report On Veterans' Dinner

A report was given on the Veterans Day banquet Saturday night when American Legion Post 374 met Monday, with Densel McKinney, commander, in charge.

About 100 attended the banquet and heard Phillip R. McBride of Cincinnati discuss "Americanism." Robert Myers, department treasurer, also spoke during the event at the Travelers Hotel.

Kenneth Youst, first vice commander, said membership is now 250. New members obligated by John Long, past commander, were Deforst Jackson, Ralph Goddard and Roy Sherman. Fifty-two were present at the meeting.

James Arcuragi was named "Legionnaire of the Month."

Donald Hancock, second vice commander, said a bus for the Alliance game will leave the post home at 7 p. m. Any member who plans to ride the bus may contact the Legion or Hancock. James Wallover, service officer, said Edward Wolfe is ill at home and Richard Hall is home following surgery in a Pittsburgh hospital.

Thomas Davidson, a delegate to the Veterans City Council, said plans have been completed for the Veterans Day parade which will form at the Loblaw Store lot and begin at 10:30 a.m. kitchen committee.

Curing U.S. Economic Ills

President Johnson first broached the subject in his State of the Union message Jan. 10. He called for enactment of a 6 per cent surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes.

The tax was to be for two years "or for so long as the unusual expenditures associated with our efforts in Vietnam continue."

Then — as if to underline his doubt about the value of the request — he failed to press Congress for passage of the additional revenue proposal.

Congress kept the measure shelved as Republicans called for a $4 to $6 billion cut in federal civilian spending.

When Aug. 3 rolled around, the President brought up the subject again. This time he asked Congress to approve a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes to avert "an unsafe and unmanageable deficit" in the federal budget and avoid "a ruinous spiral" of inflation.

Members of Congress and taxpayers were supposed to draw the conclusion that increased spending in the Vietnam effort had brought on the deficit and the threat of unbridled inflation.

It is a well-documented fact that free-wheeling spending policies had precipitated federal economic ills prior to the expanded Vietnam effort.

The executive branch of the government is not totally to blame for the financial fix the nation finds itself in. Congress must appropriate funds before they can be spent. The President couldn't spend a cent without the assistance of Congress.

It is likewise true that the executive and legislative branches must also share responsibility for correcting the existing situation.

The President would have us believe the tax surcharge is the answer. It isn't. A payment of only $6 or $7 billion (estimated surcharge revenue) on a federal deficit of nearly $30 billion would be no cure-all.

Recently, in Texas, President Johnson said if the taxpayer doesn't pay the tax he will pay even more through increased inflation.

If the taxpayer believed the tax surcharge would put an end to inflation, he would buy the program — but he knows it won't.

So what the situation amounts to is if the tax increase is approved, unions will demand — and get — more money, manufacturers will raise prices and the spiral will continue.

The taxpayer will pay both the increased tax and higher living costs spawned by rising inflation.

So what can be done?

Cut federal spending. There is no other answer.

The President, legislators and taxpayers must act in concert to get the nation's spending in line with revenue.

It won't be easy — but inaction or half-hearted efforts now will bring consequences of a magnitude no one even dares to think about.

Moving The Mail

But in strange ways, reports a Review staffer who until recently had been receiving a Charleston (W. Va.) newspaper at his home the day after publication.

A week ago, the paper started arriving two days after publication, and upon questioning city postal authorities, the subscriber was told to consult with the newspaper's circulation department at Charleston to learn if delivery schedules had been revised.

The spokesman at Charleston said no schedules had been changed, just the Post Office's requirement on ZIP code — "We have to use the ZIP code, and have to route all Ohio mail through Columbus" — some 150 miles from East Liverpool. Previously, the mail had been sent via Pittsburgh, much closer in time and distance.

Thus, ZIP code continues to move the mail . . .and move it. . .and move it. .

Carl Stokes Has Confidence

So many people have said so often that Carl B. Stokes would be in the national eye if elected mayor of Ceveland that it now is helpful to ask what they thought might be proved.

We do not think it proves anything about the Negro race that Cleveland's new mayor is a Negro.

He commanded amost 100 per cent of Cleveland's Negro votes. But he also commanded enough white votes to give him the additional strength he needed. That, we think, proved something.

It proved that a hard choice for Cleveland voters as a whole was made on a basis of relative confidence in candidate Stokes and his Republican white opponent Seth Taft.

Stokes almost ousted the incumbent Mayor Locher two years ago because he was a singularly attractive candidate. He outran a more attractive candidate this time.

It would be unrealistic not to note the tremendous vote polled by Republican Taft in a city noted as the Democratic stronghold of Ohio and one of the key Democratic cities of the nation.

It was not an easy choice for Cleveland voters.

A squeaker decision has put Mayor-elect Stokes on an ever hotter municipal spot than Mayor Lindsay of New York occupies. Lindsay must prove that New York City can be governed. Stokes must prove that Cleveland can be rallied behind the first Negro mayor of a major city.

And what were people hoping Carl Stokes could prove? Why have big-city mayors suddenly become a center of political attention?

Because millions of us are wondering if the new mayor of Cleveland, a young Negro politican who wants to make his city better for everybody, including its least privileged inhabitants, can revive hope and confidence.

Americans have had a bellyful of despair about urban problems that seem insoluble. If they really are insoluble, the American dream is never going to be fulfilled.

Carl Stokes, who talks about fulfillment of the dream in his own up-from-the-slums life, thinks great things are possible in Cleveland. He has confidence, which has become a rare commodity in America.

Purely Personal Observations

You can add to the things hell hath no fury like—the fury of a bald man for mop-haired hippies, of ignoramuses for someone better educated than they are and clean-shaven superpatriots for bearded anti-Vietnam War picketers.

It's odd that football coaches always take credit for winning teams but blame losing teams on circumstances beyond their control, as witness Ohio State's Woody Hayes, who blames his team's spotty record on professors who wouldn't let the Buckeyes go to the Rose Bowl. Says that hampered his recruiting.

I couldn't care less about the space program of late, though at one time I was as eager to shoot the moon as anyone else. It seems inconsequential now whether we shoot it or not, compared with the adventures and misadventures we're having in the shooting line on the good old earth.

We should quit feeling sorry for Russians because they don't have it as good as we think they would have it under our political system and realize they are having it better under their own system than they ever had it before, because that's all that matters.

It makes me glum to think of Nixon and Romney in New Hampshire asking for votes this far in advance of the New Hampshire presidential primary. Don't ask me what it is, but there must be some better way than this for a man to get into the White House.

I think a good listener could make a living listening to lonely people who want to talk on the telephone. I would call this service Dial-a-Listener and if pressed would also give the caller the correct time and a pre-recorded prayer by a certified praying man.

Everyone has his favorite anecdote about John N. Garner — Cactus Jack. Mine is the time he told the rambunctious Franklin Roosevelt to quit running the cattle so they could fatten up, referring to the New Deal's obsession with making over the United States immediately to suit Tugwell, Corcoran and Cohen.

Houston, Tex., lies 34 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, but it ranks as one of the busiest ports in the United States. A channel links the city to the sea.

I wish someone would make heavy-duty gloves with warm inner linings and super-tough outer covering that would not absorb moisture. Sure, sure someone is already trying to do it, but I mean a glove that would really stay dry and intact.

It should be possible for a nation capable of building a Saturn V rocket to make an auto whose front wheels would stay in alignment and a muffler that wouldn't have to be replaced.

Aquiculture

When it's roundup time in the deep, "fish-hands" will ride the range in submarines, signal to faithful porpoises and sing, perhaps, "Get along, little mackerel, get along."

The sear ranch of tomorrow is described in the National Geographic Society's new book, "World Beneath the Sea." The book envisions undersea villages where ranchers will live for long periods.

Pipelines will carry air to form "fences" for fish corrals from streams of air bubbles. Teams of porpoises, working at electronic command from sea hands in two-man submersibles, will drive fish from such corrals to a harvesting area. There suction hoses will draw fish into ships for cleaning and freezing.

In "World Beneath the Sea," Richard M. Crum of the National Geographic staff discusses the new science of aquiculture, farming the sea. More than four-fifths of earth's animals live in the sea, he points out, yet man hunts only a few dozen of the 20,000 species of ocean fish.

'At Last—After 50 Years Of Hard Work. . .'

House Guest

By Art Buchwald

CHICAGO

I had the good fortune the other day to be invited to stay at Hugh Hefner's mansion in Chicago. For those of you who don't read Playboy magazine, Hefner lives in a 500-room brownstone house with 345 servants, 250 revolving beds (one for each bedroom), a swimming pool refilled every morning with Moet Chandon champagne '64 and a steam room attended by 35 Miss Universe runners-up.

Art Buchwald

As I told my wife, "If you have to stay in Chicago, it's still better than the Hilton."

But she didn't see it that way, and she wanted to know why I would even think of staying at Hugh Hefner's pad.

"Because he's lonely!" I cried. "What's a friend for if he doesn't take off a little time to sit up with a pal?"

She said, "Why don't you ever sit up with Walter Lippman?"

"It's not the same thing," I said, slamming the door.

I MUST ADMIT I was a little excited as my plane wended its way toward Chicago. The American dream is to spend a night in Hugh Hefner's mansion; but there are very few of us who actually achieve it, at least at an age when it makes sense.

At the airport I was met by the Playboy limousine, a block-long vehicle containing a bar, a television set, a 12-speaker Hi-Fi set and a leather seat that turned into a revolving bed.

At my home away from home, I was met by a butler who was expecting me.

"Mr. Hefner wants you to sleep in the Gold Room," he said.

"Why not?" I said, trying to look over his shoulder to see if there were any Bunnies lying around.

"Would you like a steam and swim before dinner?"

"Yeh," I said, thinking that's where the action must be.

I hurried down to the steam room, tore off my clothes and dashed in. I saw a nude body stretched out on a plank of wood. I peered through the vapors. It turned out to be a bald-headed man with a beard, who introduced himself as cartoonist Shel Silverstein. I asked him how long he had been staying at the mansion.

"Two weeks," he said.

"You must be awfully tired."

"You can say that again," he said. "I stay up every night to watch the Johnny Carson Show."

AFTER A SWIM, I had dinner with Silverstein and a bearded photographer from New York. At 9 o'clock Hugh Hefner came downstairs. He was dressed in pajamas and a bathrobe. "Oh, boy," I thought. "Now the action begins."

"What would you like to do?" Hefner asked me.

"Anything you'd like to do," I said, chuckling.

We played until 8 o'clock in the morning. I lost $33.

On the plane going back to Washington the next day, I thought to myself, "Hefner sure goes to a lot of trouble to get somebody to play gin rummy with him."

VICTOR RIESEL

Reuther's Crusade Failed

WASHINGTON — That living legend, Walter Reuther, has just learned that you can denounce money but you just can't live without it. The "bankers' mentality" he scorns so frequently and publicly helps even inside labor.

Victor Riesel

His favorite dream, the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Dept., which he has hoped to unleash in a vast crusade along the byways and alleys of the land after his 30 years' war with U.S. industries, has spent some $5 million in the past two years. And now it is tobogganing towards insolvency.

Where once this high-geared, computerized coordinated machine (created in the image of the old CIO) had a regular cash balance of $3 million, it now is down to $750,000. It has been living on deficit financing. But that's no good if you can't print the currency.

Reuther is IUD president and, ever since he abolished the post several years ago, has been IUD secretary-tressurer in all but name. So cash-less is his new society that the IUD had to call off its scheduled Nov. 15 national convention. Now it's set for mid-March if it can raise the hotel room money.

ON THE IUD BOOKS are 6.5 million members and a long string of unions. Today Reuther in their leader in name only. Slowly as he began denouncing the rejuvenated George Meany — whose national AFL-CIO headquarters has a comfortable $5.5 million in liquid assets — many IUD unions stopped financing the "redhead's" dream.

Slowly it ran out of money.

"If he wants to dream," said one national union chief, "let him dream on his own funds. The other unions are not paying their IUD dues, why the hell should I?"

And a grand dream it was — perhaps still is. Beginning with the winter of 1965-66, Reuther began expanding this AFL-CIO department into a massive front. He put his own people in charge of virtually all important sections — organization, public relations, research, social security, computerization, and the hottest thing on the labor front today — coordinated bargaining.

In a short time he had about 100 such coordinated bargaining teams going. Such a team was made up of a central high command of leaders representing anywhere from six to 18 unions for an assault on a single national corporation (such as GE) or a single industry (such as that hit by the nonferrous strike). The businessmen have refused to bargain with such central labor commands. Such bargaining is the real issue in the copper-nonferrous stoppage in eight Western states now affecting 50,000 men. This stoppage now in its fourth month will roll on for at least another month.

At the same time, the IUD, directed by Reuther's former UAW executive assistant, Jack Conway, a sort of one-man Switzerland with contacts on all sides, went in for computerization. The Department began building up the most massive bank of information on the labor front. It developed push-button memory boxes which could give the union chief a run down on 50,000 NLRB elections or tens of thousands of businessmen.

REUTHER'S PEOPLE began looking for more floor space. It became a movement all its own — and Reuther used its executive gatherings to denounce Meany as well as union money bags.

But among his peers, the attitude was oh, come off it, Walter. However, he persisted in dueling them all, Mark of Zorro-like.

Slowly the dues money stopped coming in. Reuther had to pull in, consolidate and cut his long lines. For example, he had promised $1.5 million for an organizing drive in Texas — directed from Dallas and Houston. Suddenly he called it off. He had given the militant teachers unions about $1 million. He cut this off. He had given the federal government employes considerable funds for a drive to unionize 800,000 U.S. employes in the general capital area. He slashed this, too.

By Jan. 1, 1967, the IUD was down to $2,313,000. By July 1, it was down to $1,711,000. It had begun spending $100,000 more than it was receiving. At this rate there will be pennies left in the till when the March 1968 convention opens.

The "redhead" discovered that rhetoric was expensive. Eloquence flows easier than dollars. And dollars are what meets a modern payroll.

And so, on this front at least, Reuther will have to fold up his tenets and quietly fade away. One can't accuse one's colleagues of sitting on moneybags and then expect them to come to the aid of the crusade. It takes money to run a union as well as a business.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Red History

Fifty years have passed since the Bolshevik "revolution" emerged in Leningrad with the promise of a new life for the Russian people.

The Communist party in Moscow is pointing with pride to its "achievements." But the truth is that during the last 50 years, the Russian people have never achieved freedom and have found themselves continuing in virtually the same enslavement they experienced under the czars.

Individual rights have been brushed aside, and a totalitarian government has taken possession of almost everything.

This is contrary to what the revolutionary leaders declared was their purpose. It was, as Walter Laqueur, British historian, has written, "to build a new society which, in every respect, was to be more just and freer than any previous one, which would abolish exploitation and oppression, and would restore human dignity and real democracy."

THE DREAMS of Lenin and Trotsky went unfulfilled. When Stalin came into power, dictatorship was more absolute than under the monarchy.

The real revolution had occurred eight months before the Bolshevik takeover. Much to the surprise of the whole world, the Russian army, itself, joined the revolt and disposed of the czar and all royalty.

A provisional government was democratically chosen early in 1917. An organized minority under Lenin seized power in November and began indoctrinating the people with the philosophy of Communism.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who had made a searching study of the history of the revolution, said:

"Those who listen to Communist propagandists today forget that before the revolution 71 per cent of the cultivated lands were in small holdings of 135 acres or less. Before the revolution peasants owned 82 per cent of the cattle, 86 per cent of the horses, and produced a grain surplus for export. For the period 1907-1913, the industrial growth rate exceeded the rates in the same period for the U.S., Great Britain and Germany. In less than a decade, before the revolution, production had doubled . . .

"After 50 years of Communism in the Soviet Union, the Soviet gross national product is 45 per cent of that of the U.S., $333 billion as against $739 billion . . . The average weekly earnings for a worker in 1965-66 was 26 dollars, with millions subsisting on the so-called legal minimum of $10 per week. Food takes 60 per cent of a worker's earnings in the U.S.S.R., as against 19 per cent in the U.S. But the most telling statistic of all is that 50 per cent of wage earners in the Soviet Union are women — proof that a man cannot support a family with his pay check alone.

"The human costs have been staggering. Hardly any family has not been touched by arrests for slave labor — a fact which leads us to believe that over 50 million people have served in the slave-labor camps. Even today, refugee information indicates that one million are still held."

THE SOVIET regime, he adds, is "celebrating 50 years of personal terror, with neighbor spying upon neighbor, husband upon wife, and son upon father."

The organized spy corps operating in all neighborhoods today numbers six million. There are also 6,000 local schools training disseminators of domestic propaganda.

This propaganda is being used to scare the people of the Soviet Union. They are being told the United States is threatening to make war upon them. They are being deprived of a decent standard of living with the excuse that it is necessary to spend money for armament to ward off "aggression" by the United States.

The truth is being withheld from the Soviet people by a press which is carefully controlled. Facts such as the persistent effort of the United States to get a disarmament agreement, and America's continuing attempts to persuade the Kremlin to initiate peace negotiations to end the Vietnam War, are kept from the Soviet populace.

Individual freedom is still unrealized throughout the Soviet Union. One wonder what Moscow is really celebrating.

I think a good listener could make a living listening to lonely people who want to talk on the telephone. I would call this service Dial-a-Listener and if pressed would also give the caller the correct time and a pre-recorded prayer by a certified praying man.

Everyone has his favorite anecdote about John N. Garner — Cactus Jack. Mine is the time he told the rambunctious Franklin Roosevelt to quit running the cattle so they could fatten up, referring to the New Deal's obsession with making over the United States immediately to suit Tugwell, Corcoran and Cohen.

Houston, Tex., lies 34 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, but it ranks as one of the busiest ports in the United States. A channel links the city to the sea.

I wish someone would make heavy-duty gloves with warm inner linings and super-tough outer covering that would not absorb moisture. Sure, sure someone is already trying to do it, but I mean a glove that would really stay dry and intact.

It should be possible for a nation capable of building a Saturn V rocket to make an auto whose front wheels would stay in alignment and a muffler that wouldn't have to be replaced.

Aquiculture

When it's roundup time in the deep, "fish-hands" will ride the range in submarines, signal to faithful porpoises and sing, perhaps, "Get along, little mackerel, get along."

The sear ranch of tomorrow is described in the National Geographic Society's new book, "World Beneath the Sea." The book envisions undersea villages where ranchers will live for long periods.

Pipelines will carry air to form "fences" for fish corrals from streams of air bubbles. Teams of porpoises, working at electronic command from sea hands in two-man submersibles, will drive fish from such corrals to a harvesting area. There suction hoses will draw fish into ships for cleaning and freezing.

In "World Beneath the Sea," Richard M. Crum of the National Geographic staff discusses the new science of aquiculture, farming the sea. More than four-fifths of earth's animals live in the sea, he points out, yet man hunts only a few dozen of the 20,000 species of ocean fish.

'At Last—After 50 Years Of Hard Work. . .'

House Guest

By Art Buchwald

CHICAGO

I had the good fortune the other day to be invited to stay at Hugh Hefner's mansion in Chicago. For those of you who don't read Playboy magazine, Hefner lives in a 500-room brownstone house with 345 servants, 250 revolving beds (one for each bedroom), a swimming pool refilled every morning with Moet Chandon champagne '64 and a steam room attended by 35 Miss Universe runners-up.

Art Buchwald

As I told my wife, "If you have to stay in Chicago, it's still better than the Hilton."

But she didn't see it that way, and she wanted to know why I would even think of staying at Hugh Hefner's pad.

"Because he's lonely!" I cried. "What's a friend for if he doesn't take off a little time to sit up with a pal?"

She said, "Why don't you ever sit up with Walter Lippman?"

"It's not the same thing," I said, slamming the door.

I MUST ADMIT I was a little excited as my plane wended its way toward Chicago. The American dream is to spend a night in Hugh Hefner's mansion; but there are very few of us who actually achieve it, at least at an age when it makes sense.

At the airport I was met by the Playboy limousine, a block-long vehicle containing a bar, a television set, a 12-speaker Hi-Fi set and a leather seat that turned into a revolving bed.

At my home away from home, I was met by a butler who was expecting me.

"Mr. Hefner wants you to sleep in the Gold Room," he said.

"Why not?" I said, trying to look over his shoulder to see if there were any Bunnies lying around.

"Would you like a steam and swim before dinner?"

"Yeh," I said, thinking that's where the action must be.

I hurried down to the steam room, tore off my clothes and dashed in. I saw a nude body stretched out on a plank of wood. I peered through the vapors. It turned out to be a bald-headed man with a beard, who introduced himself as cartoonist Shel Silverstein. I asked him how long he had been staying at the mansion.

"Two weeks," he said.

"You must be awfully tired."

"You can say that again," he said. "I stay up every night to watch the Johnny Carson Show."

AFTER A SWIM, I had dinner with Silverstein and a bearded photographer from New York. At 9 o'clock Hugh Hefner came downstairs. He was dressed in pajamas and a bathrobe. "Oh, boy," I thought. "Now the action begins."

"What would you like to do?" Hefner asked me.

"Anything you'd like to do," I said, chuckling.

We played until 8 o'clock in the morning. I lost $33.

On the plane going back to Washington the next day, I thought to myself, "Hefner sure goes to a lot of trouble to get somebody to play gin rummy with him."

VICTOR RIESEL

Reuther's Crusade Failed

WASHINGTON — That living legend, Walter Reuther, has just learned that you can denounce money but you just can't live without it. The "bankers' mentality" he scorns so frequently and publicly helps even inside labor.

Victor Riesel

His favorite dream, the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Dept., which he has hoped to unleash in a vast crusade along the byways and alleys of the land after his 30 years' war with U.S. industries, has spent some $5 million in the past two years. And now it is tobogganing towards insolvency.

Where once this high-geared, computerized coordinated machine (created in the image of the old CIO) had a regular cash balance of $3 million, it now is down to $750,000. It has been living on deficit financing. But that's no good if you can't print the currency.

Reuther is IUD president and, ever since he abolished the post several years ago, has been IUD secretary-tressurer in all but name. So cash-less is his new society that the IUD had to call off its scheduled Nov. 15 national convention. Now it's set for mid-March if it can raise the hotel room money.

ON THE IUD BOOKS are 6.5 million members and a long string of unions. Today Reuther in their leader in name only. Slowly as he began denouncing the rejuvenated George Meany — whose national AFL-CIO headquarters has a comfortable $5.5 million in liquid assets — many IUD unions stopped financing the "redhead's" dream.

Slowly it ran out of money.

"If he wants to dream," said one national union chief, "let him dream on his own funds. The other unions are not paying their IUD dues, why the hell should I?"

And a grand dream it was — perhaps still is. Beginning with the winter of 1965-66, Reuther began expanding this AFL-CIO department into a massive front. He put his own people in charge of virtually all important sections — organization, public relations, research, social security, computerization, and the hottest thing on the labor front today — coordinated bargaining.

In a short time he had about 100 such coordinated bargaining teams going. Such a team was made up of a central high command of leaders representing anywhere from six to 18 unions for an assault on a single national corporation (such as GE) or a single industry (such as that hit by the nonferrous strike). The businessmen have refused to bargain with such central labor commands. Such bargaining is the real issue in the copper-nonferrous stoppage in eight Western states now affecting 50,000 men. This stoppage now in its fourth month will roll on for at least another month.

At the same time, the IUD, directed by Reuther's former UAW executive assistant, Jack Conway, a sort of one-man Switzerland with contacts on all sides, went in for computerization. The Department began building up the most massive bank of information on the labor front. It developed push-button memory boxes which could give the union chief a run down on 50,000 NLRB elections or tens of thousands of businessmen.

REUTHER'S PEOPLE began looking for more floor space. It became a movement all its own — and Reuther used its executive gatherings to denounce Meany as well as union money bags.

But among his peers, the attitude was oh, come off it, Walter. However, he persisted in dueling them all, Mark of Zorro-like.

Slowly the dues money stopped coming in. Reuther had to pull in, consolidate and cut his long lines. For example, he had promised $1.5 million for an organizing drive in Texas — directed from Dallas and Houston. Suddenly he called it off. He had given the militant teachers unions about $1 million. He cut this off. He had given the federal government employes considerable funds for a drive to unionize 800,000 U.S. employes in the general capital area. He slashed this, too.

By Jan. 1, 1967, the IUD was down to $2,313,000. By July 1, it was down to $1,711,000. It had begun spending $100,000 more than it was receiving. At this rate there will be pennies left in the till when the March 1968 convention opens.

The "redhead" discovered that rhetoric was expensive. Eloquence flows easier than dollars. And dollars are what meets a modern payroll.

And so, on this front at least, Reuther will have to fold up his tenets and quietly fade away. One can't accuse one's colleagues of sitting on moneybags and then expect them to come to the aid of the crusade. It takes money to run a union as well as a business.

Odd Facts

The question as to which Pharaoh ruled Egypt at the time of the exodus of the Israelites remains in dispute. The traditional and most general view is that Rameses II was the Pharaoh of the oppression and either Mernepta or Menphthal of the Exodus.

Arabic numerals are so-called because the people of Europe got them from the Arabs, but the Arabs always said their notation was the work of the Hindus. They never claimed they invented it themselves.

The great, white shark is the most dangerous of all sharks. Not only does it maim or kill bathers but, without provocation, it will sometimes attack small boats.

President Theodore Roosevelt, an ardent conservationist, set aside the first 51 wildlife refuges in the United States.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Red History

Fifty years have passed since the Bolshevik "revolution" emerged in Leningrad with the promise of a new life for the Russian people.

The Communist party in Moscow is pointing with pride to its "achievements." But the truth is that during the last 50 years, the Russian people have never achieved freedom and have found themselves continuing in virtually the same enslavement they experienced under the czars.

Individual rights have been brushed aside, and a totalitarian government has taken possession of almost everything.

This is contrary to what the revolutionary leaders declared was their purpose. It was, as Walter Laqueur, British historian, has written, "to build a new society which, in every respect, was to be more just and freer than any previous one, which would abolish exploitation and oppression, and would restore human dignity and real democracy."

THE DREAMS of Lenin and Trotsky went unfulfilled. When Stalin came into power, dictatorship was more absolute than under the monarchy.

The real revolution had occurred eight months before the Bolshevik takeover. Much to the surprise of the whole world, the Russian army, itself, joined the revolt and disposed of the czar and all royalty.

A provisional government was democratically chosen early in 1917. An organized minority under Lenin seized power in November and began indoctrinating the people with the philosophy of Communism.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who had made a searching study of the history of the revolution, said:

"Those who listen to Communist propagandists today forget that before the revolution 71 per cent of the cultivated lands were in small holdings of 135 acres or less. Before the revolution peasants owned 82 per cent of the cattle, 86 per cent of the horses, and produced a grain surplus for export. For the period 1907-1913, the industrial growth rate exceeded the rates in the same period for the U.S., Great Britain and Germany. In less than a decade, before the revolution, production had doubled . . .

"After 50 years of Communism in the Soviet Union, the Soviet gross national product is o 45 per cent of that of the U.S., $333 billion as against $739 billion . . . The average weekly earnings for a worker in 1965-66 was 26 dollars, with millions subsisting on the so-called legal minimum of $10 per week. Food takes 60 per cent of a worker's earnings in the U.S.S.R., as against 19 per cent in the U.S. But the most telling statistic of all is that 50 per cent of wage earners in the Soviet Union are women — proof that a man cannot support a family with his pay check alone.

"The human costs have been staggering. Hardly any family has not been touched by arrests for slave labor — a fact which leads us to believe that over 50 million people have served in the slave-labor camps. Even today, refugee information indicates that one million are still held."

THE SOVIET regime, he adds, is "celebrating 50 years of personal terror, with neighbor spying upon neighbor, husband upon wife, and son upon father."

The organized spy corps operating in all neighborhoods today numbers six million. There are also 6,000 local schools training disseminators of domestic propagands.

This propaganda is being used to scare the people of the Soviet Union. They are being told the United States is threatening to make war upon them. They are being deprived of a decent standard of living with the excuse that it is necessary to spend money for armament to ward off "aggression" by the United States.

The truth is being withheld from the Soviet people by a press which is carefully controlled. Facts such as the persistent effort of the United States to get a disarmament agreement, and America's continuing attempts to persuade the Kremlin to initiate peace negotiations to end the Vietnam War, are kept from the Soviet populace.

Individual freedom is still unrealized throughout the Soviet Union. One wonder what Moscow is really celebrating.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — About $18 in change was stolen from a cash register at the Northside Drugstore on Avondale St. by a thief who entered after smashing the plate glass in the front door.

Miss Betty Jane Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Crawford of East Liverpool, was a member of the cast in a play at Wellesley, (Mass.) College, where she was a junior.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Marilyn Hughes was selected as "Daisy Mae" and Jack Burgess as "Lil' Abner" at the annual Sadie Hawkins dance at East Liverpool High School.

Mrs. Roy Mayes was named president of the Grandview Farm Women's Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — A $2,500 campaign to help finance a community planning and development project was kicked off by the Wellsville Community Improvement Council.

Mrs. Pleasant Armstrong was seated for her second term as president of the Gold Star Mothers Chapter.

Mrs. Charlotte Sciano was received as a new member of the Happy Larks Club at the home of Mrs. Thelma Frances of Lisbon St.

Navy Fireman Adrian Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Cunningham of 114 E. 2nd St., recently received a letter of commendation for "outstanding performance of duty" while on return from a mission in the Caribbean area.

Cunningham was recognized for his prompt report of a fire aboard the U.S.S. Hyades, AF-28, and for returning to the scene to fight the blaze until assistance arrived. The ship is currently in home port at Norfolk Navy Station, Va.

Leonard F. Reed, 19, son of Mrs. Helen Reed of 1078 Pennsylvania Ave., has been promoted to airman first class at Seymour Johnson base in Goldsboro, N. C. It is his second promotion since June.

He was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1966 and entered the service that November.

Jackie Passes Up Sights Of Bangkok Due To Fatigue

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy passed up the sights of Bangkok today, pleading fatigue from her travels in Cambodia, and rested for the royal dinner being given in her honor tonight by King Bhumibol and Queen Sirikit.

Mrs. Kennedy's host Wednesday night, Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn, was told she had an upset stomach and hastily added American-style food as an alternative to the spicy Thai curries.

But Charles Bartlett, the Washington newsman who is a member of Mrs. Kennedy's party, said today she is not ill.

"She's just tired from all the travel. We really worked touring those temples at Angkor," he said.

The party spent a week in climbing around the ruined temples of the ancient Khmer city of Angkor.

The former U.S. first lady was to have visited Thailand's National Museum today to view priceless collections of Buddha heads, sculpture and woodcarving 1,000 years old.

When the visit was canceled, Bartlett explained: "Mrs. Kennedy wants to rest up for the dinner tonight at the royal palace."

At the premier's dinner Mrs. Kennedy watched classical Thai dancing and "really enjoyed herself," Bartlett said.

One member of Mrs. Kennedy's party, Lord Harlech, the former British ambassador to Washington, left Wednesday night for London. The rest of the group, including Bartlett, his wife and Michael Forrestal, the son of the first U.S. secretary of defense, are to leave Friday night for the United States.

Courts Handle $9,013 In Cases For October

LISBON — The three Columbiana County courts at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine collected and disbursed $9,013 in fines and costs during October, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey reports.

The county treasurer received $5,719 and the state treasurer $2,960, representing 45 per cent of the fines in Ohio Highway Patrol cases. Fees totaling $334 were paid to the sheriff, constables and police.

ELHS Assembly Honors Scholars

Students with three "A's" and one "B" at the close of the second semester last term were recognized this afternoon during an honors award assembly at East Liverpool High School.

Clifford Lynch, principal, said an American Education Week assembly will be held Friday.

The newly - elected Board of Education members will speak and an original skit prepared by Mac Ogilvie, Dan Dupont, John Smith and Dale Jones will be presented. The choir will sing three numbers. Margaret Rush and Bridget Tobin will lead the assembly.

Parents and school patrons are invited to attend the assembly. Refreshments will be served in the school library.

Ohio Establishes Trade Office In Venezuela City

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)— Ohio has established a trade office here to expand the sale of Buckeye State products in Central and South America.

The announcement was made Wednesday by a spokesman for Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, who is leading a trade mission through the southern hemisphere.

Rhodes currently is in Lima, Peru, while other members of the trade mission remain here to take care of business. They will join the governor later.

The office here is being established by Ohio Trade Mission, Inc., and there will be no cost to taxpayers of Ohio because of private participation, the spokesman said.

Ohio already has a trade office in Brussels to serve the European market. The trade office here is the first to be established by a state.

Rights Leaders Ask Adequate Funds

Congress Gets Warning On Antipoverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders say Congress will be inviting a national disaster if it does not continue the antipoverty program with adequate funding.

The warning came as the House began consideration Wednesday of amendments to a bill that would authorize the Office of Economic opportunity to carry on the program for two more years.

A group of religious leaders also endorsed the bill, calling for its passage on moral grounds.

With many members planning an early departure from the Capitol to attend Veterans Day ceremonies, no key votes are expected before next week.

A joint statement by the civil rights leaders said Congress made a commitment to help the poor when it passed the Economic Opportunity Act in 1964.

'We give solemn warning now that to break the national promise of three years ago would be to invite national disaster," they said.

Among those signing the statement were A. Philip Randolph, Whitney Young Jr., Roy Wilkins and Clarence Mitchell, heads of individual organizations who have banded together in the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

The Interreligious Committee Against Poverty said in a statement that "strong, well-funded antipoverty legislation which assures maximum initiative of and self-determination by the poor, especially at the neighborhood level, will be the best insurance for the realization of justice for all persons in our society."

Signers of this statement included the Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, Roman Catholic archbishop of San Antonio, Tex.; Louis Stern, president of the National Jewish Welfare Board; and Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the National Council of Churches.

As debate continued on the bill Wednesday it drew support from two members who have opposed antipoverty legislation in the past, Reps. Joe D. Waggonner, D-La., and Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio.

Scouting Honors Are Received By Former Resident

A former city youth now a sophomore at Lehman High School in Canton received the rank of Eagle Scout and was made assistant scoutmaster recently in a ceremony at the Calvary Presbyterian Church in Canton.

Mark E. Mooney, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Mooney of 1535 Logan Ave. NW, Canton, was honored. He is treasurer of his sophomore class and a Student Council representative. He belongs to Troop 118. He is also senior patrol leader and scouting skills instructor. He holds the Order of Arrow and the Third Year Pipestone Award.

Mooney is a grandson of Mrs. LaRue Mooney of East Liverpool and Mrs. Rose Angelone of Commerce St., Wellsville.

Labor Erupts As Key Issue In Farm Talks

Delegates at the 49th annual session being attended by 1,500 persons expressed in Wednesday's opening session a desire to produce better marketing methods for farm products.

Today a call came out for development of better bargaining procedures between the farmer and buyer.

"We need federal legislation to permit farmers to take action in their own behalf in carrying on a bargaining program that would give them a fair return on their investment and labor," the Federation's executive vice president, D. R. Stanfield, said in a news release.

Stanfield, expressing concern over farm prices, said Farm Bureau members should be encouraged to enroll in the Ohio Agricultural Marketing Association, a subsidiary of the Federation.

"This would give us the structure to make our farmers effective in any federal bargaining legislation that might come down the road."

In another news release, Federation President Frank Sollars charged that prices received by farmers are down almost 10 per cent from last year.

"We have always met our responsibility in times of peace an in times of war," reported Sollars. But the reward of agriculture for expanding its production was "depressed prices which brought the farmer less for his total increased production, and sharply higher overhead."

Hussein's Visit To Capital Stirs Diplomatic Puzzlement

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jordanian King Hussein's visit to Washington, which opened with hopes he might bear radical new Arab proposals for ending the Middle East crisis, ends in diplomatic puzzlement over what the Arabs really want.

The optimism in Washington's diplomatic circles was based on statements Hussein made in a New York interview last Sunday, among them that the Arabs are ready to recognize Israel's right "to live in peace and security."

Saying he spoke not just for Jordan but for the Arab world, Hussein stated that under certain conditions, the Arabs might recognize Israel's right to use the Strait of Tiran and the Suez Canal.

Hussein called this a "very tremendous change" in the Arab position, and the Johnson administration's experts agreed. But in two later public speeches in Washington, the king gave no hint of any policy change, tremendous or otherwise.

Hussein's statements to President Johnson during Wednesday evening White House talks remained a secret. Informed sources reported, however, that during his Monday conference with Secretary of State Dean Rusk the king failed to repeat the possible Arab concessions he mentioned in New York.

In his Tuesday speech before the National Press Club the king whet everybody's appetite by announcing he brought a "new and positive approach" to the Middle East problem, a message from Arab heads of state.

But the message turned out to be a generality: Arab desire to achieve "lasting peace."

Otherwise Hussein's speech contained only advice to Israel—that it should withdraw from the occupied territories, solve the 20-year-old refugee problem and behave in the future so as to gain acceptance by the Arabs as their neighbor.

Highly placed U.S. sources stress they don't doubt Hussein was sincere in presenting his "tremendous change" formula last Sunday and equally sincere in believing he had a mandate to speak for all Arabs. The question which puzzles experts is what happened after Hussein's New York performance.

Rights Leaders Ask Adequate Funds

Congress Gets Warning On Antipoverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders say Congress will be inviting a national disaster if it does not continue the antipoverty program with adequate funding.

The warning came as the House began consideration Wednesday of amendments to a bill that would authorize the Office of Economic opportunity to carry on the program for two more years.

A group of religious leaders also endorsed the bill, calling for its passage on moral grounds.

With many members planning an early departure from the Capitol to attend Veterans Day ceremonies, no key votes are expected before next week.

A joint statement by the civil rights leaders said Congress made a commitment to help the poor when it passed the Economic Opportunity Act in 1964.

'We give solemn warning now that to break the national promise of three years ago would be to invite national disaster," they said.

Among those signing the statement were A. Philip Randolph, Whitney Young Jr., Roy Wilkins and Clarence Mitchell, heads of individual organizations who have banded together in the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

The Interreligious Committee Against Poverty said in a statement that "strong, well-funded antipoverty legislation which assures maximum initiative of and self-determination by the poor, especially at the neighborhood level, will be the best insurance for the realization of justice for all persons in our society."

Signers of this statement included the Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, Roman Catholic archbishop of San Antonio, Tex.; Louis Stern, president of the National Jewish Welfare Board; and Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the National Council of Churches.

As debate continued on the bill Wednesday it drew support from two members who have opposed antipoverty legislation in the past, Reps. Joe D. Waggonner, D-La., and Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio.

Silverman's Started In 1918

Midland Furniture Store To Close After 49 Years

The Silverman family has announced plans to close its Midland store, terminating a business opened 49 years ago.

The business was started in Midland in 1918 by S. A. Silverman, who immigrated to Pittsburgh from Suwlki, Russia, where he was an officer in the Russian Army during the Russian - Japanese War. He fled the country for America in 1905.

Arriving in Midland from Pittsburg, he purchased a bankrupt stock of hardware and housewares at 306 Midland Ave. Dave Silverman joined his father in business following his service in World War I. Nate Silverman remained in Pittsburgh for three years to work for his cousin, Morris Pearlman.

Three years later, Silverman was rushed to Mercy Hospital for a serious operation. Following the operation he developed chronic hiccups which continued two weeks. The doctor said unless they stopped miraculously by the next morning, he could not live. Dave said, "The hiccups stopped that morning."

Mr. Silverman passed away in 1935 from a heart condition. By that time the business had been moved to a new location at 406-408 Midland Ave. where a furniture business was added in conjunction with the hardware business. Here it remained for two years until Ross Hardware Co. at 531 Midland Ave. went bankrupt. Silverman bought the inventory in 1929. He then bought the store, remodeled the building, with hardware on the ground floor, and furniture on the balcony and second floor.

In 1932 the business bought the adjoining building from Hyman Sigal who ran a shoe store at the location. Silvermans joined both buildings together with a large opening at the center, and installed a new front. In later years the family purchased a building at 540 Beaver Ave. from Martinetti and Masters. The Silverman firm enlarged at this location.

Dave and Nate who have carried on the business since their father's death, plan to sell the stock.

They plan to rent or sell the building and the 48 x 120 lot next door on Midland Ave.

After the paper work has been completed, Dave and Mrs. Silverman plan a trip to Israel.

Midland Legion Will Send 4 To Nov. 18 Training Session

Plans to attend a American Legion Leadership School Nov. 18 at St. Vincent College were made when Post 481 at Midland met Monday night with Commander Robert Dick presiding.

Attending the training institute from the Midland post will be William E. Coble, Stephen Crano, Mark Pike Jr., and Patrick Cody.

The Turkaly - Richards Detachment of the Marine Corps League was authorized to use the post rooms the first Thursday of every month for meetings.

Dick announced the Beaver County Veterans Day Celebration began with a Past Commanders banquet held Wednesday night. Several past commanders from the Midland post attended. The guest speaker was Theodore Foedisch, state commander, of Philadelphia.

The Midland Post will provide the color guard in the county parade to begin Saturday at 10:30 a. m. The Sons of the American Legion under the supervision of Pike, squadron leader, and the bands of Lincoln High School and Western Beaver High School will march.

Pike said the squadron will report to the post rooms Saturday at 8:45 a. m. and leave for Beaver Falls at 9 a. m. Transportation will be provided.

District Commander Dom Presto urged the post to attain a 50 per cent membership by Saturday. The post has 186 members and needs 250 by Veterans Day.

The post made a donation to the Beaver County Tuberculosis Association. The Beaver County committee will meet Nov. 15, a Wednesday, instead of Friday as usually scheduled, at Aliquippa Post 225 at 8 p.m. A District 26 meeting will be Dec. 2 at Wampum. The next meeting of the Midland post will be Nov. 20.

A discussion about renovating the cenotaph was held. Coble, chairman, discussed tentative plans to renovate the cenotaph or build a new one in Lincoln Park. The Midland Junior Women's Club is assisting in the project.

New Delhi To Have Canine Night Patrol

NEW DELHI (AP) — The country's first nighttime canine police patrol is soon to be started in New Delhi, in areas of the highest crime incidence.

Police officials said the patrols will have 18 dogs initially.

The city also plans to establish the country's first Mobile Scientific Aid Unit, enabling fingerprint experts and other technicians to move to the scene of a crime.

Guards Reject Wage Offer At Space Facility

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A wage offer was rejected Wednesday night by guards at the Plum Brook facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, raising the possibility of a strike.

Robert Ladd, president of Local 131 of the United Plant Guard Workers of America, said the guards are now waiting to hear from their employer, Isotopes, Inc.

He said the union members voted 17 to 3 to reject the company's offer. Terms of the offer were not announced.

Ladd would not say how long the union members would wait before striking. Their three-year contract expired at midnight Tuesday. The company handles Plum Brook's security under contract with NASA.

"Sandusky guards start at $1.93 an hour and can go up to $2.25 hourly," Ladd said. "We've asked for comparable wages with the Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, where guards get $2.25 an hour to $2.70 an hour."

Black At Conference

William R. Black of the Midland First National Bank was attending the 1967 lending conference of Pennsylvania Bankers Association today at Harrisburg. The convention opened Wednesday. Also attending were Paul W. Haynie and Joseph N. Tosh of the Freedom National Bank.

Thomas Jefferson for many years kept detailed records of the weather at Monticello, his Virginia estate. For a time he compared his data with a friend's reports for Williamsburg.

Elected President

R. C. Gilroy, a former employe of the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co., has been elected president of the Northern Engineering Corp. at Detroit, builder of overhead cranes and hoists. Gilroy was with Crucible 22 years, working in manufacturing, sales and industrial engineering. Northern Engineering is a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Engineering Corp. at New Castle.

A discussion about renovating the cenotaph was held. Coble, chairman, discussed tentative plans to renovate the cenotaph or build a new one in Lincoln Park. The Midland Junior Women's Club is assisting in the project.

New Delhi To Have Canine Night Patrol

NEW DELHI (AP) — The country's first nighttime canine police patrol is soon to be started in New Delhi, in areas of the highest crime incidence.

Police officials said the patrols will have 18 dogs initially.

The city also plans to establish the country's first Mobile Scientific Aid Unit, enabling fingerprint experts and other technicians to move to the scene of a crime.

Guards Reject Wage Offer At Space Facility

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A wage offer was rejected Wednesday night by guards at the Plum Brook facility of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, raising the possibility of a strike.

Robert Ladd, president of Local 131 of the United Plant Guard Workers of America, said the guards are now waiting to hear from their employer, Isotopes, Inc.

He said the union members voted 17 to 3 to reject the company's offer. Terms of the offer were not announced.

Ladd would not say how long the union members would wait before striking. Their three-year contract expired at midnight Tuesday. The company handles Plum Brook's security under contract with NASA.

"Sandusky guards start at $1.93 an hour and can go up to $2.25 hourly," Ladd said. "We've asked for comparable wages with the Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, where guards get $2.25 an hour to $2.70 an hour."

Black At Conference

William R. Black of the Midland First National Bank was attending the 1967 lending conference of Pennsylvania Bankers Association today at Harrisburg. The convention opened Wednesday. Also attending were Paul W. Haynie and Joseph N. Tosh of the Freedom National Bank.

Thomas Jefferson for many years kept detailed records of the weather at Monticello, his Virginia estate. For a time he compared his data with a friend's reports for Williamsburg.

Elected President

R. C. Gilroy, a former employe of the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co., has been elected president of the Northern Engineering Corp. at Detroit, builder of overhead cranes and hoists. Gilroy was with Crucible 22 years, working in manufacturing, sales and industrial engineering. Northern Engineering is a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Engineering Corp. at New Castle.

Compromise On Tax-Budget Fight?

Shafer Will Meet Friday With Legislative Leaders

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer scheduled a meeting with legislative leaders of both parties here Friday, giving rise to speculation that a compromise settlement of the six-month-old budget-tax fight may be just around the corner.

Shafer said little at his news conference Wednesday to indicate an agreement had been reached, but he appeared to be more optimistic than at any time since his $287 million tax program became deadlocked for lack of votes.

Asked if he had received any information to indicate that the House and Senate leaderships were near agreement, Shafer said:

"I have a feeling that they're closer than they have been."

Asked why, he replied:

"I don't know, I just have a feeling."

Shafer expressed hope that the General Assembly could clear the decks of fiscal and other pressing matters by the end of this month and adjourn before the Constitutional Convention opens Dec. 1.

He said he did not believe it wise for the legislature and the convention to meet concurrently, because several lawmakers also are convention delegates.

However, the governor emphasized the need for the legislature to act on $172 million in remaining tax bills in order to balance his administration's $1.8 billion budget.

"I don't want the legislature to adjourn until we get the issue resolved," Shafer said. "I'm hopeful that the issue will be resolved."

Shafer said the purpose of the meeting Friday was to get a progress report on negotiations between the leaders, Sens. Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford, and Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, and Reps. Lee A. Donaldson Jr., R-Allegheny, and Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia.

Shafer said he would present the General Assembly with a list of priority items which his administrations believes should be acted on this year. Generally he said the "must" bills are in the areas of urban affairs, conservation, civil rights, insurance, transportation, education, labor and human services.

That part of the administration's legislative program not acted on this year can be carried over to next year as a result of a constitutional amendment approved by the voters in May.

Commenting on Tuesday's election, Shafer said he generally was pleased with the Republican showing in Pennsylvania. He expressed disappointment, however, that Republican Arlen Specter failed in his bid for the office of mayor of Philadelphia.

Specter, a former Democrat elected district attorney in the state's largest city two years ago, was defeated in the mayor's race by incumbent James H. J. Tate.

"Mr. Specter made a tremendous run in the face of almost insurmountable odds," Shafer said, noting the heavy Democratic registration in the state's largest city.

Shafer took note that the Republicans won control of the Constitution Convention, but expressed confidence that the deliberations would precede in a bipartisan spirit of cooperation.

3 Of His 14 Children See Man Kill Ex-Wife, Himself

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Three of Joel V. Turnbow's 14 children saw him kill their mother and then end his own life with a shot in the head Wednesday.

It was the grim climax to one of many quarrels between the unemployed trucker, 45, and his ex-wife Marie, 42, who had divorced him March 3.

Nine of their children still lived with the mother, and her death raised a question of where they will find a home. Before the day was over, however, there was talk of keeping them together.

Nita Turnbow, 20, and two sisters still too young for school—Tina, 5, and Cindy, 4—were among the shocked witnesses to the shootings.

They saw Mrs. Turnbow run outside the East Fort Worth home during an argument which developed an hour after the trucker arrived in the forenoon.

Turnbow caught his former wife in a neighbor's yard, threw her to the ground and shot her three times with a .22-caliber pistol, Nita told Detective W.T. Eary. Then Turnbow fired a bullet into his brain.

Nita said her mother tried to telephone for police but was unable to make the call because the lines had been cut.

"He always told mother, 'I'll kill you and myself if you get a divorce,'" related Dora Morgan, one of the couple's older daughters.

Mrs. Morgan said a family council will be held as soon as all can get together and they will decide what to do about her younger brothers and sisters.

Besides Nina, Tina and Cindy, those still living at home are Linda, 16; Robert, 14; Theresa, 12; Gary, 11; Valery, 8, and Mike, 6.

N&W Runs 450-Car Coal Train 100 Miles

WILLIAMSON, W.Va. (AP)—The Norfolk & Western Railway Wednesday ran a 450-car, eight-engined coal car train 100 miles from Williamson, to Portsmouth, Ohio, continuing what trainmen called an experimental program.

The 45,000-ton unit was disassembled at Portsmouth and the cars hitched to smaller trains bound for various points.

The first run of the Behemoth, called the largest train possibly to ever travel over tracks in the United States, was 47 miles from Iaeger, W.Va., to Williamson on Oct. 25.

Midland Council Re-Enacts Borough Wage Tax For 1968

Midland Borough Council Wednesday night re-enacted the one percent wage tax for 1968.

Donald Bartram, representing Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, reported the tennis court light standards have been relocated according to revised specifications.

He said the nets were delivered, installed and then taken down again so a seal coat could be applied to the courts before they are used.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard suggested it might be better to store the nets for winter, but Bartram said the nets are metal and would not be damaged by snow and ice.

He said the metal nets cost $20 more each than nylon, but were purchased because they are sturdier and weatherproof.

Officers reports were approved as submitted. General bills totaling $7,390 were paid.

Raymond Presutti, who was re-elected at Tuesday's election, thanked Midland residents for their support on behalf of himself and Councilmen Joseph D'Alesio and Hibbard, who also were re-elected.

Presutti announced council intends to continue working with the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co. in an effort to solve air pollution problems in the borough.

Mayor Eli G. Corak was congratulated for winning another term as Beaver County Commissioner and Councilman Edward Cilli for having been re-elected to the Board of Education.

The next meeting will be Nov. 22 at 8 p. m.

Kaycee Council Plans Delegates To Ohio Meetings

Members of the Fr. Thome Council 5885, Knights of Columbus, voted to send two delegates to all Ohio youth campaign meetings at its session Tuesday night at the St. Ann's church rectory. John B. Ferlaino, grand knight, presided.

Frank Arcuri, general program chairman, reported on the conclusion of the local youth campaign and other committee reports. Joseph McKinnon, Catholic activity chairman, announced that the members will receive Holy Communion in a group Nov. 19 during 8 a. m. mass.

Joseph DeSarro reported on the first degree exemplification held in October and welcomed Anthony Frank as a new member.

Fr. William Hohman opened and closed the meeting with prayer and also spoke briefly on the attendance at daily masses and the spiritual benefits gained by regular participation. The next meeting will be Nov. 21 at 7:30 p. m.

X-Ray Cruiser Plans Visits To Industries

Friday, 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 2:30 p.m., NRMC, Columbiana plant, and 3 to 5 p.m., Kaiser Refractories, Columbiana.

Cincinnati Firm Sets Expansion Program

CINCINNATI (AP)— A new plant spreading over 165,000 square feet will be built near South Lebanon as the first step in a seven-year $100 million expansion progam of Cincinnati Milling Machine Co.

Chemical Plant Named In Action

LISBON — The state of Ohio, acting on behalf of 37 Salem area residents, filed a lawsuit Wednesday in Common Pleas Court against the Nease Chemical Co., Inc., on Benton Rd. (Route 14 alternate.)

Plaintiffs charge the defendant "has for the past several years, is at the present time and will continue in the future to operate its business in such a manner as to create a public nuisance to the neighborhood in question and more particularly to the defendants herein."

The plaintiffs are from Salem RD 1, RD 4 and MC 24.

They say the chemical company operation produces "injurious and destructive vapors, smoke and noxious odors to the annoyance of the property owners in the neighborhood and the injury of their health," and that they are "'deprived of the enjoyment and healthful use of their property." They also mentioned stream pollution as a result of the plant's operations.

They seek a permanent injunction against the company and request that the defendant be ordered to abate the nuisance.

Cunningham

When the case was called this morning, Clark made a brief statement on the background and then moved for dismissal.

"I have discussed every aspect of this case with everyone involved, including the county prosecutor's office," Clark told the judge. "We are of the opinion that the evidence is such that this case shouldn't be prosecuted.

"I want the court to know that the investigation of these armed robberies still is continuing—it has never let up," Clark continued. "I think eventually we will come up with the right answers."

The judge then granted the motion for dismissal and released Cunningham's appearance bond.

Another charge of armed robbery early in the morning of Oct. 9 was dismissed earlier, also as the result of a wavering witness. Mrs. Nellie Taylor, victim of a holdup Oct. 9 at the Little Diner, was held up again a few days later by a young man who said "they got the wrong man." Mrs. Taylor said she was certain Cunningham was not responsible for the Oct. 9 holdup. The defendant was in jail at the time of the second stickup..

Prior to the scheduled preliminary hearing last week, Cunningham's defense counsel, J. Michael Kapp, had filed a written notice of presenting an alibi in the grocery stickup charge. It said the defense would present four witnesses to show that Cunningham was at home at the time the hodlup took place.

Archibald Gets Park Unit Post At Palestine

Archibald of 651 N. Market St., a clerk at the Rukenbrod market and a real estate broker, has been appointed to the City Park Board by Mayor Robert Harding.

Archibald will fill the unexpired term of Vincent Cooper, former high school principal who resigned to accept a post in the Steubenville school system.

The term will run through Dec. 31, 1969. The board includes Howard Parker and Dr. Jack Carpenter.

Midland Council Re-Enacts Borough Wage Tax For 1968

Midland Borough Council Wednesday night re-enacted the one percent wage tax for 1968.

Donald Bartram, representing Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, reported the tennis court light standards have been relocated according to revised specifications.

He said the nets were delivered, installed and then taken down again so a seal coat could be applied to the courts before they are used.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard suggested it might be better to store the nets for winter, but Bartram said the nets are metal and would not be damaged by snow and ice.

He said the metal nets cost $20 more each than nylon, but were purchased because they are sturdier and weatherproof.

Officers reports were approved as submitted. General bills totaling $7,390 were paid.

Raymond Presutti, who was re-elected at Tuesday's election, thanked Midland residents for their support on behalf of himself and Councilmen Joseph D'Alesio and Hibbard, who also were re-elected.

Presutti announced council intends to continue working with the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co. in an effort to solve air pollution problems in the borough.

Mayor Eli G. Corak was congratulated for winning another term as Beaver County Commissioner and Councilman Edward Cilli for having been re-elected to the Board of Education.

The next meeting will be Nov. 22 at 8 p. m.

Kaycee Council Plans Delegates To Ohio Meetings

Members of the Fr. Thome Council 5885, Knights of Columbus, voted to send two delegates to all Ohio youth campaign meetings at its session Tuesday night at the St. Ann's church rectory. John B. Ferlaino, grand knight, presided.

Frank Arcuri, general program chairman, reported on the conclusion of the local youth campaign and other committee reports. Joseph McKinnon, Catholic activity chairman, announced that the members will receive Holy Communion in a group Nov. 19 during 8 a. m. mass.

Joseph DeSarro reported on the first degree exemplification held in October and welcomed Anthony Frank as a new member.

Fr. William Hohman opened and closed the meeting with prayer and also spoke briefly on the attendance at daily masses and the spiritual benefits gained by regular participation. The next meeting will be Nov. 21 at 7:30 p. m.

CINCINNATI (AP)— A new plant spreading over 165,000 square feet will be built near South Lebanon as the first step in a seven-year $100 million expansion progam of Cincinnati Milling Machine Co.

Chemical Plant Named In Action

LISBON — The state of Ohio, acting on behalf of 37 Salem area residents, filed a lawsuit Wednesday in Common Pleas Court against the Nease Chemical Co., Inc., on Benton Rd. (Route 14 alternate.)

Plaintiffs charge the defendant "has for the past several years, is at the present time and will continue in the future to operate its business in such a manner as to create a public nuisance to the neighborhood in question and more particularly to the defendants herein."

The plaintiffs are from Salem RD 1, RD 4 and MC 24.

They say the chemical company operation produces "injurious and destructive vapors, smoke and noxious odors to the annoyance of the property owners in the neighborhood and the injury of their health," and that they are "'deprived of the enjoyment and healthful use of their property." They also mentioned stream pollution as a result of the plant's operations.

They seek a permanent injunction against the company and request that the defendant be ordered to abate the nuisance.

Cunningham

When the case was called this morning, Clark made a brief statement on the background and then moved for dismissal.

"I have discussed every aspect of this case with everyone involved, including the county prosecutor's office," Clark told the judge. "We are of the opinion that the evidence is such that this case shouldn't be prosecuted.

"I want the court to know that the investigation of these armed robberies still is continuing—it has never let up," Clark continued. "I think eventually we will come up with the right answers."

The judge then granted the motion for dismissal and released Cunningham's appearance bond.

Another charge of armed robbery early in the morning of Oct. 9 was dismissed earlier, also as the result of a wavering witness. Mrs. Nellie Taylor, victim of a holdup Oct. 9 at the Little Diner, was held up again a few days later by a young man who said "they got the wrong man." Mrs. Taylor said she was certain Cunningham was not responsible for the Oct. 9 holdup. The defendant was in jail at the time of the second stickup..

Prior to the scheduled preliminary hearing last week, Cunningham's defense counsel, J. Michael Kapp, had filed a written notice of presenting an alibi in the grocery stickup charge. It said the defense would present four witnesses to show that Cunningham was at home at the time the hodlup took place.

Court Suspends Jail Sentence In Bad Check Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today meted out a fine of $50 and costs and a suspended 90-day jail term to a young man in connection with one of three charges alleging he issued checks to local business places with intent to defraud, knowing that he did not have sufficient funds on deposit.

George Deem Jr., who gave authorities two addresses in Wellsville and another in Glenmoor, also was placed on probation for six months and ordered to obey all the laws of the city, state and U.S.

He pleaded guilty to the charge he issued a fraudulent $50 check on Oct. 18 to the Smith & Phillips Co. store on Washington St. The court said Deem may make restitution to the store by Dec. 15.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor, said he had been advised that Deem had made restitution for two more checks on which charges had been filed. He was named in affidavits accusing him of issuing a fraudulent $35 check on Sept. 29 at the Kiddie Korner on E. 5th St. and a $50 check on Oct. 16 at the Tri-State Appliance Co. store on Market St.

Clark said he was advised by county authorities Deem had issued a total of about 12 checks, but restitution had been made.

Major Honored As 'Outstanding'

Maj. Eleanor Wilson, daughter of Harold Wilson of Wellsville and a junior at Incarnate Word College, San Antonio, Tex., has been included in the publication "Outstanding Young Women of America."

The publication is sponsored by leaders of women's organizations and published annually in Chicago.

Maj. Wilson, on educational leave from the Air Force Nurse Corps, is working for a bachelor of science degree in nursing at Incarnate Word.

She received her nurse's training at East Liverpool City Hospital and later worked as a surgical nurse for one year. Maj. Wilson also studied at Steubenville College.

In 1958 she entered the Air Force as a second lieutenant and was assigned to the Mountain Home base in Idaho. In November 1959, she attended Flight Nurses School at the Brooks base in San Antonio, and from 1960-1963 was assigned to the Rhein Main base in Germany as a flight nurse for Europe, Africa and the Near and Middle East.

From July 1963 until August 1967, Maj. Wilson was the head nurse of the pediatric ward for the 3510th Air Force Hospital at the Randolph base in Texas.

Professionally, she is a member of the Aerospace Medical Association and the Aerospace Flight Nurses Branch. She also has joined the Texas Academy of Science, Collegiate Academy, this semester.

Trial

of the boys testified there were about 100 students at the outing, and there was drinking during the afternoon and evening.

Cpl. Smith said the dirt and gravel road was dry at the crash scene, and he observed two somewhat parallel marks running from the east of the scene and going toward the rock and tree. "They were the type of marks made by tires sliding sideways although not locked up," he said.

ASSISTANT prosecuting Atty. James D. Primm Jr. told the court yesterday he expects to rest the state's case today, perhaps this morning.

Five witnesses testified Wednesday as to the apparent speed of the black Volkswagen just before it hit the rocks and tree.

Otis P. McFadden of Grimms Bridge Rd. said he was working under a school bus in the driveway of his home and heard a noise, above the motor noise of the bus, which made him look toward the road. He said he caught a glimpse of a car and a lot of dust. McFadden said he rolled out from under the bus to see what had gone by and, as he straightened up, heard a crash. He said the accident occurred about 400 yards beyond his drive.

Wilma Jane Trowbridge of 1004 St. Clair Ave. told the jury she saw the car hit some stones and the tree. She said she was on her porch between the creek and the road and saw the car coming up the road. She recalled saying, "My gosh, how fast he is going, he is going to hit something." She had no estimate of the car's speed.

HER FATHER, William Sanford of 1018 St. Clair, testified he was on the porch with his daughter. "I saw this boy come up the road at a high rate of speed. I am no judge of speed, but I would say it was between 40 and 45 miles per hour. I hollered at the car to slow down."

"Why did you yell at the car," Primm asked. "Because it was going too fast in my estimation," Sanford replied. He said he has been driving 50 years.

H. K. Burris of Park Way Ext., East Liverpool RD 3, said the accident occurred in front of his cottage. He said he was sitting on a porch about 100 feet back from the road and saw the car hit the tree and "turn partly around in the air." He estimated the car's speed at 40 or 45 miles an hour.

Kenneth Cunningham, an East Palestine truck driver, estimated the speed at 50 to 60 miles. He said he was standing in his grandfather's yard as the car went by. "I hollered at him to slow down and he hollered an obscene word at me," Cunningham said.

HE WAS driving down the creek road and met the two cars coming toward him. He described damage to the right front fender of the VW which he learned later had been caused when it hit a tree in the party area.

McKenzie testified there was no more damage to the fender after the subsequent fatal crash. John Bauknecht of East Palestine, defense counsel, introduced the fender as an exhibit.

McKenzie said the drivers appeared to be alright and had operators' licenses. He said he checked out all the youths except Canne who was "passed out" on the back seat of the VW.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner, testified he performed an autopsy on the body of young Canne and determined the cause of death was a depressed fracture at the back of the head.

Bauknecht questioned the coroner about the five pathological findings on his report. There wer four in addition to the skull fracture: Abrasions and contusions of the chest, pulmonary congestion and edema secondary to contusions of the brain stem, a fracture of the right thigh and acute intoxication.

DR. KOLOZSI parried Bauknecht's suggestions that the acute intoxication could have been a factor in the student's death. The pathologist said intoxication was just one of several unusual findings and resulted from a routine blood sample test. He said he examined the body for gunshot, stabbing, pommeling and drowning and there was no evidence of any of them.

In conclusion, Primm asked, "Did the fact that Jerry Canne had a broken femur have anything to do with the cause of his death?"

"It might have, but it did not," Dr. Kolozsi answered.

"Would the type of injury that he received have killed him if he had no alcohol in his system?" Primm continued.

"It would have," was the reply.

Fire Auxiliary Selects Officers

Mrs. Dean McKnight was elected president when the Knoxville Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary met, with Mrs. Conrad Dobson, vice president, in charge.

Others named are Mrs. Andrew Powley, vice president; Mrs. William Kelly, treasurer, and Mrs. Glen McLain, secretary.

Christmas candy is being made for sale by the members and area women, Mrs. Dobson said. Orders may be made with Mrs. Dean Cooper of Toronto RD 1. A bazaar, with a clothing sale, will be held Friday and Saturday by the club. A bake sale also will be held Saturday. Proceeds will be used for club projects.

Plans to purchase pans of various sizes were made. They will be used to make candy.

Mrs. Robert Phelps and Mrs. McLain were hostesses.

The next meeting will be Dec. 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the fire hall.

Young Man Fined $30 In 2 Traffic Charges

Ronald Lee Woodburn, 19, of Smith St. was fined a total of $30 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on two traffic charges filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Woodburn was fined $20 and costs on a charge of passing at an intersection and $10 and costs on a charge of failure to transfer registration from one auto to another. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 6:10 p.m. on Route 267.

Joseph Hendricks, 65, of LaCroft, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of improper backing filed by police after his backing auto struck another last Thursday on the A. & P. Market parking lot. Edmund Bauknecht of Deerbrook, Wis., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a patrol charge of crashing a stop sign Tuesday night on Route 7.

Court Suspends Jail Sentence In Bad Check Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today meted out a fine of $50 and costs and a suspended 90-day jail term to a young man in connection with one of three charges alleging he issued checks to local business places with intent to defraud, knowing that he did not have sufficient funds on deposit.

George Deem Jr., who gave authorities two addresses in Wellsville and another in Glenmoor, also was placed on probation for six months and ordered to obey all the laws of the city, state and U.S.

He pleaded guilty to the charge he issued a fraudulent $50 check on Oct. 18 to the Smith & Phillips Co. store on Washington St. The court said Deem may make restitution to the store by Dec. 15.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor, said he had been advised that Deem had made restitution for two more checks on which charges had been filed. He was named in affidavits accusing him of issuing a fraudulent $35 check on Sept. 29 at the Kiddie Korner on E. 5th St. and a $50 check on Oct. 16 at the Tri-State Appliance Co. store on Market St.

Clark said he was advised by county authorities Deem had issued a total of about 12 checks, but restitution had been made.

Major Honored As 'Outstanding'

Maj. Eleanor Wilson, daughter of Harold Wilson of Wellsville and a junior at Incarnate Word College, San Antonio, Tex., has been included in the publication "Outstanding Young Women of America."

The publication is sponsored by leaders of women's organizations and published annually in Chicago.

Maj. Wilson, on educational leave from the Air Force Nurse Corps, is working for a bachelor of science degree in nursing at Incarnate Word.

She received her nurse's training at East Liverpool City Hospital and later worked as a surgical nurse for one year. Maj. Wilson also studied at Steubenville College.

In 1958 she entered the Air Force as a second lieutenant and was assigned to the Mountain Home base in Idaho. In November 1959, she attended Flight Nurses School at the Brooks base in San Antonio, and from 1960-1963 was assigned to the Rhein Main base in Germany as a flight nurse for Europe, Africa and the Near and Middle East.

From July 1963 until August 1967, Maj. Wilson was the head nurse of the pediatric ward for the 3510th Air Force Hospital at the Randolph base in Texas.

Professionally, she is a member of the Aerospace Medical Association and the Aerospace Flight Nurses Branch. She also has joined the Texas Academy of Science, Collegiate Academy, this semester.

Trial

of the boys testified there were about 100 students at the outing, and there was drinking during the afternoon and evening.

Cpl. Smith said the dirt and gravel road was dry at the crash scene, and he observed two somewhat parallel marks running from the east of the scene and going toward the rock and tree. "They were the type of marks made by tires sliding sideways although not locked up," he said.

ASSISTANT prosecuting Atty. James D. Primm Jr. told the court yesterday he expects to rest the state's case today, perhaps this morning.

Five witnesses testified Wednesday as to the apparent speed of the black Volkswagen just before it hit the rocks and tree.

Otis P. McFadden of Grimms Bridge Rd. said he was working under a school bus in the driveway of his home and heard a noise, above the motor noise of the bus, which made him look toward the road. He said he caught a glimpse of a car and a lot of dust. McFadden said he rolled out from under the bus to see what had gone by and, as he straightened up, heard a crash. He said the accident occurred about 400 yards beyond his drive.

Wilma Jane Trowbridge of 1004 St. Clair Ave. told the jury she saw the car hit some stones and the tree. She said she was on her porch between the creek and the road and saw the car coming up the road. She recalled saying, "My gosh, how fast he is going, he is going to hit something." She had no estimate of the car's speed.

HER FATHER, William Sanford of 1018 St. Clair, testified he was on the porch with his daughter. "I saw this boy come up the road at a high rate of speed. I am no judge of speed, but I would say it was between 40 and 45 miles per hour. I hollered at the car to slow down."

"Why did you yell at the car," Primm asked. "Because it was going too fast in my estimation," Sanford replied. He said he has been driving 50 years.

H. K. Burris of Park Way Ext., East Liverpool RD 3, said the accident occurred in front of his cottage. He said he was sitting on a porch about 100 feet back from the road and saw the car hit the tree and "turn partly around in the air." He estimated the car's speed at 40 or 45 miles an hour.

Kenneth Cunningham, an East Palestine truck driver, estimated the speed at 50 to 60 miles. He said he was standing in his grandfather's yard as the car went by. "I hollered at him to slow down and he hollered an obscene word at me," Cunningham said.

HE WAS driving down the creek road and met the two cars coming toward him. He described damage to the right front fender of the VW which he learned later had been caused when it hit a tree in the party area.

McKenzie testified there was no more damage to the fender after the subsequent fatal crash. John Bauknecht of East Palestine, defense counsel, introduced the fender as an exhibit.

McKenzie said the drivers appeared to be alright and had operators' licenses. He said he checked out all the youths except Canne who was "passed out" on the back seat of the VW.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner, testified he performed an autopsy on the body of young Canne and determined the cause of death was a depressed fracture at the back of the head.

Bauknecht questioned the coroner about the five pathological findings on his report. There wer four in addition to the skull fracture: Abrasions and contusions of the chest, pulmonary congestion and edema secondary to contusions of the brain stem, a fracture of the right thigh and acute intoxication.

DR. KOLOZSI parried Bauknecht's suggestions that the acute intoxication could have been a factor in the student's death. The pathologist said intoxication was just one of several unusual findings and resulted from a routine blood sample test. He said he examined the body for gunshot, stabbing, pommeling and drowning and there was no evidence of any of them.

In conclusion, Primm asked, "Did the fact that Jerry Canne had a broken femur have anything to do with the cause of his death?"

"It might have, but it did not," Dr. Kolozsi answered.

"Would the type of injury that he received have killed him if he had no alcohol in his system?" Primm continued.

"It would have," was the reply.

Fire Auxiliary Selects Officers

Mrs. Dean McKnight was elected president when the Knoxville Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary met, with Mrs. Conrad Dobson, vice president, in charge.

Others named are Mrs. Andrew Powley, vice president; Mrs. William Kelly, treasurer, and Mrs. Glen McLain, secretary.

Christmas candy is being made for sale by the members and area women, Mrs. Dobson said. Orders may be made with Mrs. Dean Cooper of Toronto RD 1. A bazaar, with a clothing sale, will be held Friday and Saturday by the club. A bake sale also will be held Saturday. Proceeds will be used for club projects.

Plans to purchase pans of various sizes were made. They will be used to make candy.

Mrs. Robert Phelps and Mrs. McLain were hostesses.

The next meeting will be Dec. 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the fire hall.

Young Man Fined $30 In 2 Traffic Charges

Ronald Lee Woodburn, 19, of Smith St. was fined a total of $30 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on two traffic charges filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Woodburn was fined $20 and costs on a charge of passing at an intersection and $10 and costs on a charge of failure to transfer registration from one auto to another. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 6:10 p.m. on Route 267.

Joseph Hendricks, 65, of LaCroft, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of improper backing filed by police after his backing auto struck another last Thursday on the A. & P. Market parking lot. Edmund Bauknecht of Deerbrook, Wis., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a patrol charge of crashing a stop sign Tuesday night on Route 7.

Midland Area Chamber Unit Sets Election

Nominated were five incumbents and seven new candidates. The incumbents are Fred G. Wilton, secretary of the Crucible Federal Employes Credit Union; William Verzella, service station operator; Ermie D'Angelo, shoe store owner; Olen Gibson, manager of the Midland Branch of the Beaver Trust Co., and Joseph Scalise, director of employe relations at the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co.

The new candidates are Edward Bishoff, manager of the G. C. Murphy Store; Sid Reisner, auto dealer; Miss Dorothy Shevenaugh, beauty salon owner; Ted Castelli, jewelry store proprietor; Leslie B. Roach, barber; Charles Beatrice, Midland News advertising representative, and Frank Suffoletta, restaurant proprietor.

Six directors will be elected by mail. The ballots will be mailed to the membership this month.

The ballots are to be returned by the end of the month. The winners will be announced at the meeting Dec. 13. Officers will be elected at that time.

Verzella, chairman of the Christmas street lighting project, reported trimming of 70 trees between 4th and 9th Sts. along Midland Ave. will begin Sunday at 11 a. m. Volunteers from civic groups are asked to report at that time in the 600 block of Midland Ave.

Verzella said the decorations will be more concentrated this year. He said some new ones have been added. In addition to the annual Christmas parade Nov. 25, the Chamber plans to have a "Santa Land" for children at a storeroom location. It will be opened two weeks before Christmas.

Martell, retail division chairman, reported a sales promotion for the Yule shopping season will begin Wednesday.

Lester Smith is president.

Flags To Be Displayed At Wellsville Program

A veteran of both World Wars with a collection of flags from 1607 to the present will be guest speaker during a special program Friday night at 8 at American Legion Post 70 in Wellsville.

He has spent years reading old documents, books, letters and pamphlets to gather information on the flags. The collection is valued at $2,000.

Miller, who is employed as an auditor with the U. S. Post Office Department at Cincinnati, was awarded a George Washington Honor Medal by the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge Feb. 22, 1966. The material he has compiled has been made into manuscript form and, with a photograph of each flag group, has been placed in the Gen. Douglas MacArthur Library at Valley Forge, Pa.

In 1960, Miller started his collection after reading an essay by a New Jersey student, entitled, "Patriotism, So What?" He has been active in American Legion affairs for 20 years and is a member of the Hamilton County Council vice commander of the Fourth District of the Department of Ohio.

Miller will present the program to Wellsville High School students Friday afternoon.

Mourners Pay Final Tribute To Garner Today

A special memorial service was planned at 12:30 p.m. EST at Uvalde High School auditorium. The principal speaker is Dolph Briscoe Jr., prominent rancher, business man and friend of the Garner family for many years. Another speaker is Wayne Matthews, president of Southwest Texas Junior College to which Garner contributed generously.

All Uvalde schools and downtown business houses planned to close so students and employes could attend a 4 p.m., funeral service at a funeral home.

The Rev. Romilly Timmins said he would conduct the regular Episcopal funeral service, about 15 minutes of prayers and Scipture readings without any sermon or eulogy.

The Rev. Mr. Timmins also will conduct a five-minute burial service at the Uvalde Cemetery where Garner's body will be placed beside the grave of Mrs. Garner who died in 1948.

Quasars were discovered in 1963. Their name is short for quasistellar radio sources, but no one knows what they really are.

Shippingport Post Is Filled

SHIPPINGPORT — Lawrence Hayward was appointed sanitation inspector when Shippingport Council met Tuesday night.

Hayward is a foreman with the Midland Water Department. The appointment was made in compliance with recent revisions in state requirements.

A resignation was accepted from Councilman Robert Christy of Shippingport, who has moved to Florida.

The vacancy will be discussed at the next meeting.

Council agreed to buy two tires and two tubes for the borough grader instead of one set as originally planned.

Revision of the zoning ordinance to cover house trailers also was discussed. A public hearing on the matter is planned early in December.

Bills totaling $215.71 were paid.

Council's regular meeting night was moved to the first Tuesday of the month, the original meeting time, since it was learned a Council meeting on the first Wednesday would conflict with the Fire Department.

Two Posts Filled By Area Grange

LISBON — Carl Bailey, master of Mt. Nebo Grange, appointed Mrs. Robert Rockwell to head the Home Economics Committee and Mrs. Guy Frantz as sunshine chairman at the meeting Wednesday night. Thirty - five adults and children attended.

Mt. Nebo donated to an appeal for aid and decided to postpone its next meeting, set for Thanksgiving eve, until Nov. 29.

Two meetings were announced —Pomona Grange at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Willow Grove Grange, a change from the date and location appearing in the roster, and the county Grange officers at 8:30 p. m. Monday at Midway Grange.

The juniors participated in the program arranged by Howard Wilhelm, lecturer. Deborah Bailey gave a reading and the young people sang. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey reported on the state Grange meeting at Akron in October.

Mrs. Eugene Gauding and Mrs. Lloyd Bailey served lunch.

County Honored At State Meeting

President Frank Sollars presented the award certificates to the Farm Bureau presidents from the winning counties. Dawson Irey of Lisbon RD 3 accepted from Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Irey, Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Hoopes of Beloit RD 2, Albert Hartley of Columbiana RD 2 and Richard Stamp of Salem RD 2 are attending the convention. Mrs. Hoopes is organization director of the county unit. Sessions began Wednesday and will conclude Friday.

Continuance Granted On Wounding Charge

To allow the defendant time to obtain counsel, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until next Wednesday in a case in which Chester L. Turner of Erie St. is charged with assault with a dangerous weapon in connection with the pistol wounding of another East End man early Oct. 29.

Turner is accused of firing a .38-caliber pistol which wounded Will Mercer, 63, of 1213 Erie St. Mercer was hit in the upper right arm. He told police the wounding was the upshot of an argument.

Turner appeared before the judge this morning and advised he had not obtained counsel. The court said an attorney will be appointed if Turner has not obtained counsel by next Wednesday. The judge continued Turner's $2,500 appearance bond.

Ohio Voters Okayed 82% Of School Levies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters, despite recent statewide tax hikes to further the cause of education, were highly receptive to local school bond issues and operating levies voted on in Tuesday's elections.

The Ohio Education Association (OEA) reported Wednesday that voters approved 82 per cent of the school money issues on the ballots around the state.

The OEA also noted that 73 per cent of the issues will create higher property taxes in the local districts.

Voters approved 65 of 99 school bond issues. Of the 374 school operating levies on the ballot, 323 (86 per cent) gained voter okay, according to the OEA.

Auto Of Area Driver Rams Bridge Railing

Midland Area Chamber Unit Sets Election

Nominated were five incumbents and seven new candidates. The incumbents are Fred G. Wilton, secretary of the Crucible Federal Employes Credit Union; William Verzella, service station operator; Ermie D'Angelo, shoe store owner; Olen Gibson, manager of the Midland Branch of the Beaver Trust Co., and Joseph Scalise, director of employe relations at the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co.

The new candidates are Edward Bishoff, manager of the G. C. Murphy Store; Sid Reisner, auto dealer; Miss Dorothy Shevenaugh, beauty salon owner; Ted Castelli, jewelry store proprietor; Leslie B. Roach, barber; Charles Beatrice, Midland News advertising representative, and Frank Suffoletta, restaurant proprietor.

Six directors will be elected by mail. The ballots will be mailed to the membership this month.

The ballots are to be returned by the end of the month. The winners will be announced at the meeting Dec. 13. Officers will be elected at that time.

Verzella, chairman of the Christmas street lighting project, reported trimming of 70 trees between 4th and 9th Sts. along Midland Ave. will begin Sunday at 11 a. m. Volunteers from civic groups are asked to report at that time in the 600 block of Midland Ave.

Verzella said the decorations will be more concentrated this year. He said some new ones have been added. In addition to the annual Christmas parade Nov 25, the Chamber plans to have a "Santa Land" for children at a storeroom location. It will be opened two weeks before Christmas.

Martell, retail division chairman, reported a sales promotion for the Yule shopping season will begin Wednesday.

Lester Smith is president.

Flags To Be Displayed At Wellsville Program

A veteran of both World Wars with a collection of flags from 1607 to the present will be guest speaker during a special program Friday night at 8 at American Legion Post 70 in Wellsville.

He has spent years reading old documents, books, letters and pamphlets to gather information on the flags. The collection is valued at $2,000.

Miller, who is employed as an auditor with the U. S. Post Office Department at Cincinnati, was awarded a George Washington Honor Medal by the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge Feb. 22, 1966. The material he has compiled has been made into manuscript form and, with a photograph of each flag group, has been placed in the Gen. Douglas MacArthur Library at Valley Forge, Pa.

In 1960, Miller started his collection after reading an essay by a New Jersey student, entitled, "Patriotism, So What?" He has been active in American Legion affairs for 20 years and is a member of the Hamilton County Council vice commander of the Fourth District of the Department of Ohio.

Miller will present the program to Wellsville High School students Friday afternoon.

Mourners Pay Final Tribute To Garner Today

A special memorial service was planned at 12:30 p.m. EST at Uvalde High School auditorium. The principal speaker is Dolph Briscoe Jr., prominent rancher, business man and friend of the Garner family for many years. Another speaker is Wayne Matthews, president of Southwest Texas Junior College to which Garner contributed generously.

All Uvalde schools and downtown business houses planned to close so students and employes could attend a 4 p.m., funeral service at a funeral home.

The Rev. Romilly Timmins said he would conduct the regular Episcopal funeral service, about 15 minutes of prayers and Scipture readings without any sermon or eulogy.

The Rev. Mr. Timmins also will conduct a five-minute burial service at the Uvalde Cemetery where Garner's body will be placed beside the grave of Mrs. Garner who died in 1948.

Quasars were discovered in 1963. Their name is short for quasistellar radio sources, but no one knows what they really are.

Shippingport Post Is Filled

SHIPPINGPORT — Lawrence Hayward was appointed sanitation inspector when Shippingport Council met Tuesday night.

Hayward is a foreman with the Midland Water Department. The appointment was made in compliance with recent revisions in state requirements.

A resignation was accepted from Councilman Robert Christy of Shippingport, who has moved to Florida.

The vacancy will be discussed at the next meeting.

Council agreed to buy two tires and two tubes for the borough grader instead of one set as originally planned.

Revision of the zoning ordinance to cover house trailers also was discussed. A public hearing on the matter is planned early in December.

Bills totaling $215.71 were paid.

Council's regular meeting night was moved to the first Tuesday of the month, the original meeting time, since it was learned a Council meeting on the first Wednesday would conflict with the Fire Department.

Two Posts Filled By Area Grange

LISBON — Carl Bailey, master of Mt. Nebo Grange, appointed Mrs. Robert Rockwell to head the Home Economics Committee and Mrs. Guy Frantz as sunshine chairman at the meeting Wednesday night. Thirty - five adults and children attended.

Mt. Nebo donated to an appeal for aid and decided to postpone its next meeting, set for Thanksgiving eve, until Nov. 29.

Two meetings were announced —Pomona Grange at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Willow Grove Grange, a change from the date and location appearing in the roster, and the county Grange officers at 8:30 p. m. Monday at Midway Grange.

The juniors participated in the program arranged by Howard Wilhelm, lecturer. Deborah Bailey gave a reading and the young people sang. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey reported on the state Grange meeting at Akron in October.

Mrs. Eugene Gauding and Mrs. Lloyd Bailey served lunch.

County Honored At State Meeting

Ohio Voters Okayed 82% Of School Levies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters, despite recent statewide tax hikes to further the cause of education, were highly receptive to local school bond issues and operating levies voted on in Tuesday's elections.

The Ohio Education Association (OEA) reported Wednesday that voters approved 82 per cent of the school money issues on the ballots around the state.

The OEA also noted that 73 per cent of the issues will create higher property taxes in the local districts.

Voters approved 65 of 99 school bond issues. Of the 374 school operating levies on the ballot, 323 (86 per cent) gained voter okay, according to the OEA.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you told a wife who wondered if her husband was cheating in Vietnam not to ask him any questions when he returned.

You also said, "If he volunteers the information, listen quietly, say nothing, forgive him and never bring up the subject again."

Is this sauce only for the goose, or does it also apply to the gander?

My brother has been in Vietnam for eight months. I have no proof but I could almost swear that his wife has entertained former sweethearts in her apartment.

It burns me up that she's always gotten away with the goody-goody act. Everyone in the family thinks she's a saint. I have a theory that people who go out of their way to be especially nice are hiding something.

I always have the theory that it's best to bring things out in the open and clear the air. When my brother comes home I plan to tell him of my suspicions and if his wife is innocent let her prove it.

Dear Not: You must have flunked the course, Needlenose, because you've got it wrong. American justice is based on the concept that a person is innocent until proved guilty.

"Clear the air," my Aunt Minnie! You sound like a four-door, brass - plated troublemaker and I hope your brother tells you to M. Y. O. B. the minute you open your mouth.

The Money Tree

Dear Ann: I was widowed at 48. Two sons. One married the following year. The other married six months later.

I gave them each $1,000 as a wedding gift.

Three months later the younger son asked if he could borrow $300. I said yes. He never paid it back so I gave his brother $300 also, because I wanted to be fair.

Then the older boy asked if I would help him buy a house. I signed for his loan. He and his wife moved out of town six months later and I had to make good on the payments.

The following year they decided to move back to town. I gave them $5,000 to get started. I gave the other son $5,000, too, because I wanted to be fair.

Neither of these boys or their wives have the time of day for me unless they want to talk about borrowing money.

They never asked me to their homes for a meal or invite me any place.

I'm nearly 70 and have very little money left. I'm so depressed about the way my sons treat me that I don't know what to do. Any advice? — USED.

Dear Used: One thing you can do is stop being a money machine. I hope your letter will wake up other mothers who think gifts to children necessarily beget love and respect.

Confidentially

To Trouble in the Movies: Tell him to keep his hands in the popcorn or find himself another girl.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nonprofessional Employes Boycott Hospital In Ironton

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Emergency cases are all that can be handled at Lawrence County General Hospital due to a boycott by nonprofessional employes demanding union recognition.

Operations were put on an emergency basis Wednesday after 70 of the hospital's 200 employes called in sick. Hospital Administrator Harold Rolph, said, however, that everything was being taken in stride.

About 50 workers stayed off the job during the day shift and another 20 failed to report Wednesday night.

The boycotting was launched in support of their demands to be represented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

"This is creating a complete hardship within the community," Rolph said Wednesday.

The 123-bed hospital had been full when the boycott started but the number of patients was reduced to 110 by Wednesday evening due to the walkout.

Sign-carrying pickets — who described themselves as friends and relatives of the employes— appeared at the hospital Wednesday and twice were herded into a parking lot by police after they gathered on the institution's sidewalks.

The hospital began a form of retaliation.

Normally, employes can be off work three days without needing a doctor's certificate. But Wednesday, the administration said a slip will be needed for each day an employe is off the job.

Rolph said, however, that no plans are under way to get the dissident workers back on the job by legal means, even though they are covered by Civil Service and are not, under law, permitted to strike.

Members of the hospital auxiliary assumed some of the responsibilities Wednesday after dietary, housekeeping employes and nurses aides did not report to work.

But Wednesday evening, auxiliary President Mrs. Rose Pyles, ordered some members to stay away from the hospital. Of the 40 auxiliary members, about half have husbands who are members of labor unions.

4 Killed When Cars Ram In Pennsylvania

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two cars trying to pass on a three - lane highway collided headon Wednesday night, killing all four occupants.

Killed were Dennis Sukenik, 20; his mother, Angeline, 46; and his grandmother, Mrs. Sandina Rizzo, 65, all of Johnstown, and George Altenbaugh of Pittsburgh.

State police said the cars, operated by Sukenik and Altenbaugh, were trying to pass other cars and rammed together in the middle lane of U.S. 22 just west of this Indiana County community.

The four were dead on arrival at Latrobe Area Hospital.

Six Receive Probation In Egg-Tossing

LISBON — Six young men who threw eggs at the Salineville police cruiser during Halloween were given suspended 30-day jail sentences Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay costs of $5 each were Pearl Gordon and David Leffler, both of Salineville RD; John Gotschall of Mechanicstown, and Gary Kaiser, Dane Russell and Robert Morgan, all of Salineville.

The court fined:

Kenneth E. Nestor of East Liverpool, operating motor vehicle with registration plate belonging to another vehicle, $25 and costs; Leo M. Betz of Hanoverton, failure to stop in an assured clear distance, $25 and costs (fine suspended because defendant completed driver improvement course); Robert D. Strums of Minerva RD 2, speeding, $15 and costs, and William B. Foster of Lisbon, failure to dim lights for approaching traffic, $10 and costs.

Louis H. Adams of Lisbon, found in a state of intoxication, was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail and ordered to pay $5 costs.

College To Honor Woman Founder Of Texas Clinic

STEUBENVILLE — Dr. Lena Frances Edwards, who resigned a professorship at Howard University and left a private practice for five years to found a maternity clinic for white Spanish and Negro migrant farm workers in the Texas Panhandle, will receive the Poverello Medal during the annual Founders Day dinner at the College of Steubenville Dec. 3.

The decision to found the clinic was made in 1959, when Dr. Edwards was visiting her son, Rev. Father Martin Madison, S.A., in Washington, D. C. A Texas classmate of her son, hearing Dr. Edwards was planning to do mission work, suggested she locate in Hereford, Tex., where the Graymoor Friars had opened St. Joseph Mission at a labor camp.

She visited the camp, built to hold World War II Italian prisoners - of - war. Here 5,000 migrant field workers and their families were housed while harvesting the carrot and cabbage crop during each August and September.

She started working with these people even before the clinic was built, her first patients being delivered in the county hospital, which had admitted her to the staff. Her problem was great, because the poorly paid field workers could not afford hospital care.

Burglar Loots Home; Vandal Damages Auto

Mrs. Virginia Wright of 1102 St. Clair Ave. told police Wednesday a burglar ransacked her home, taking $30 worth of meat from the refrigerator, other food worth $55, a set of drums valued at $41 and a birthstone ring and cameo brooch.

The intruder entered by breaking a pane of glass in a storm door and another in the interior door, then reached through the opening to manipulate the lock, she said. The entry was discovered shortly before noon yesterday when Mrs. Wright returned home after a brief absence.

Meanwhile, James Reynolds of E. 4th and Walnut Sts. told police Wednesday night at 11:45 a vandal ripped the ignition wiring from his 1960 model car, removed the ignition switch and bent the gear selector lever while the vehicle was parked in front of the Ceramic Hotel last night.

Topic At Dinner Nov. 15

Community Development Theme Set For Chamber

Gene Garrison of Columbus, manager of the north central division of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will speak at the annual fall membership dinner of the local Chamber Nov. 15 at the Country Club.

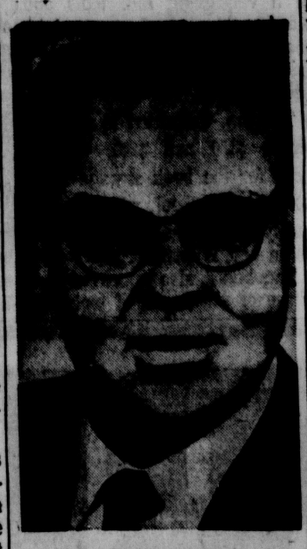
Garrison will speak on ""The Businessman's Role in Total Community Development." His address will follow a 6:30 buffet dinner.

Garrison was appointed to his present post in January. He is a graduate of Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla., and has done graduate work at the University of Oklahoma.

He also has studied various courses at the national Chamber's Institute for Organization Management. He is a graduate of the Industrial Development Institute conducted by the American Industrial Development Council.

Before joining the staff of the U. S. Chamber, Garrison served as executive vice president of the Edinburg (Tex.) Chamber and held the same post in the Littlefield (Tex.) Chamber. He also has served as manager of the Kenedy (Tex.) Chamber. He served on the total community development committee of the U. S. Chamber.

As the U. S. Chamber's field representative in this part of the nation, he works with business firms, local and state Chambers and trade and professional associations on various aspects of public affairs.



GENE GARRISON
Columbus Man To Speak.

Dinner arrangements are in charge of the banquet and meetings committee, comprised of John Pinney, chairman, Ray Clendenning, Frank A. Dawson, Elmer Elferd, Ralph A. Finley and W. W. Irwin.

Today In Washington

It will be the President's first multipoint trip since he campaigned for Democratic concongressional candidates in October 1966.

George Christian, White House press secretary, indicated Johnson would visit troops at Army, Air Force and Navy installations and may also stop at Marine and Coast Guard bases.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is getting a replica of a portrait of former first lady Bess Truman and efforts are being made to get protraits of Presidents John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson and their wives.

John Walker, director of the National Gallery, and a member of the White House Historical Association, which now contracts for such portraits, announced a portrait currently being painted of the late President Kennedy by artist Gardner Cox of Boston will be ready soon, probably by the end of the year.

He said he hoped to get Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and the Johnsons to have their portraits done also.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, facing a shortage of china because of larger banquets for foreign heads of state, has announced it is ordering its first full set of dishes in more than 16 years.

The new china, with 216 place settings, will have a wildflower theme at the suggestion of beautification-minded first lady, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. It will be manufactured by Castleton China, Inc., of New York City.

Tiffany and Co., of New York City has been selected to design the china. The state flower of every state in the Union will be on one of the dessert plates.

The White House Historical Association will foot the bill for the new china. "It will be expensive," said Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the first lady's press secretary.

Bus, Truck, Cars Damaged In Pair Of City Crashes

A bus, a pickup truck and two cars were damaged in a pair of minor traffic mishaps Wednesday at E. 3rd St. and Broadway, police reported.

A collision at 9:57 p. m. involved a 1965 four - door sedan driven by James R. Cullifer, 43, of Post Office Box 192 and a 1955 model Greyhound Bus operated by Robert L. Baughman, 47, of Pittsburgh.

Cullifer told police he was halted for a traffic light on Broadway at E. 3rd, near the site of a street excavation, when his auto was bumped by the bus as it made a turn off E. 3rd onto Broadway. The mishap damaged the left side of the rear fender and bumper of the auto and left a paint mark on the left rear tire of the bus.

Another mishap at the same intersection at 12:55 p.m. involved a 1951 pickup truck driven by Anna E. Whitehill, 53, of Georgetown RD 1 and a 1965 model coupe operated by Gareth A. Ashworth, 20, of Fairfield, Ohio, officers said. Ashworth told police he was following the truck, which halted and then drifted backward.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you told a wife who wondered if her husband was cheating in Vietnam not to ask him any questions when he returned.

You also said, "If he volunteers the information, listen quietly, say nothing, forgive him and never bring up the subject again."

Is this sauce only for the goose, or does it also apply to the gander?

My brother has been in Vietnam for eight months. I have no proof but I could almost swear that his wife has entertained former sweethearts in her apartment.

It burns me up that she's always gotten away with the goody-goody act. Everyone in the family thinks she's a saint. I have a theory that people who go out of their way to be especially nice are hiding something.

I always have the theory that it's best to bring things out in the open and clear the air. When my brother comes home I plan to tell him of my suspicions and if his wife is innocent let her prove it.

Dear Not: You must have flunked the course, Needlenose, because you've got it wrong. American justice is based on the concept that a person is innocent until proved guilty.

"Clear the air," my Aunt Minnie! You sound like a four-door, brass - plated troublemaker and I hope your brother tells you to M. Y. O. B. the minute you open your mouth.

The Money Tree

Dear Ann: I was widowed at 48. Two sons. One married the following year. The other married six months later.

I gave them each $1,000 as a wedding gift.

Three months later the younger son asked if he could borrow $300. I said yes. He never paid it back so I gave his brother $300 also, because I wanted to be fair.

Then the older boy asked if I would help him buy a house. I signed for his loan. He and his wife moved out of town six months later and I had to make good on the payments.

The following year they decided to move back to town. I gave them $5,000 to get started. I gave the other son $5,000, too, because I wanted to be fair.

Neither of these boys or their wives have the time of day for me unless they want to talk about borrowing money.

They never asked me to their homes for a meal or invite me any place.

I'm nearly 70 and have very little money left. I'm so depressed about the way my sons treat me that I don't know what to do. Any advice? — USED.

Dear Used: One thing you can do is stop being a money machine. I hope your letter will wake up other mothers who think gifts to children necessarily beget love and respect.

Confidentially

To Trouble in the Movies: Tell him to keep his hands in the popcorn or find himself another girl.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Nonprofessional Employes Boycott Hospital In Ironton

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Emergency cases are all that can be handled at Lawrence County General Hospital due to a boycott by nonprofessional employes demanding union recognition.

Operations were put on an emergency basis Wednesday after 70 of the hospital's 200 employes called in sick. Hospital Administrator Harold Rolph, said, however, that everything was being taken in stride.

About 50 workers stayed off the job during the day shift and another 20 failed to report Wednesday night.

The boycotting was launched in support of their demands to be represented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

"This is creating a complete hardship within the community," Rolph said Wednesday.

The 123-bed hospital had been full when the boycott started but the number of patients was reduced to 110 by Wednesday evening due to the walkout.

Sign-carrying pickets — who described themselves as friends and relatives of the employes— appeared at the hospital Wednesday and twice were herded into a parking lot by police after they gathered on the institution's sidewalks.

The hospital began a form of retaliation.

Normally, employes can be off work three days without needing a doctor's certificate. But Wednesday, the administration said a slip will be needed for each day an employe is off the job.

Rolph said, however, that no plans are under way to get the dissident workers back on the job by legal means, even though they are covered by Civil Service and are not, under law, permitted to strike.

Members of the hospital auxiliary assumed some of the responsibilities Wednesday after dietary, housekeeping employes and nurses aides did not report to work.

But Wednesday evening, auxiliary President Mrs. Rose Pyles, ordered some members to stay away from the hospital. Of the 40 auxiliary members, about half have husbands who are members of labor unions.

4 Killed When Cars Ram In Pennsylvania

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two cars trying to pass on a three - lane highway collided headon Wednesday night, killing all four occupants.

Killed were Dennis Sukenik, 20; his mother, Angeline, 46; and his grandmother, Mrs. Sandina Rizzo, 65, all of Johnstown, and George Altenbaugh of Pittsburgh.

State police said the cars, operated by Sukenik and Altenbaugh, were trying to pass other cars and rammed together in the middle lane of U.S. 22 just west of this Indiana County community.

The four were dead on arrival at Latrobe Area Hospital.

Six Receive Probation In Egg-Tossing

LISBON — Six young men who threw eggs at the Salineville police cruiser during Halloween were given suspended 30-day jail sentences Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay costs of $5 each were Pearl Gordon and David Leffler, both of Salineville RD; John Gotschall of Mechanicstown, and Gary Kaiser, Dane Russell and Robert Morgan, all of Salineville.

The court fined:

Kenneth E. Nestor of East Liverpool, operating motor vehicle with registration plate belonging to another vehicle, $25 and costs; Leo M. Betz of Hanoverton, failure to stop in an assured clear distance, $25 and costs (fine suspended because defendant completed driver improvement course); Robert D. Strums of Minerva RD 2, speeding, $15 and costs, and William B. Foster of Lisbon, failure to dim lights for approaching traffic, $10 and costs.

Louis H. Adams of Lisbon, found in a state of intoxication, was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail and ordered to pay $5 costs.

College To Honor Woman Founder Of Texas Clinic

STEUBENVILLE — Dr. Lena Frances Edwards, who resigned a professorship at Howard University and left a private practice for five years to found a maternity clinic for white Spanish and Negro migrant farm workers in the Texas Panhandle, will receive the Poverello Medal during the annual Founders Day dinner at the College of Steubenville Dec. 3.

The decision to found the clinic was made in 1959, when Dr. Edwards was visiting her son, Rev. Father Martin Madison, S.A., in Washington, D. C. A Texas classmate of her son, hearing Dr. Edwards was planning to do mission work, suggested she locate in Hereford, Tex., where the Graymoor Friars had opened St. Joseph Mission at a labor camp.

She visited the camp, built to hold World War II Italian prisoners - of - war. Here 5,000 migrant field workers and their families were housed while harvesting the carrot and cabbage crop during each August and September.

She started working with these people even before the clinic was built, her first patients being delivered in the county hospital, which had admitted her to the staff. Her problem was great, because the poorly paid field workers could not afford hospital care.

Burglar Loots Home; Vandal Damages Auto

Mrs. Virginia Wright of 1102 St. Clair Ave. told police Wednesday a burglar ransacked her home, taking $30 worth of meat from the refrigerator, other food worth $55, a set of drums valued at $41 and a birthstone ring and cameo brooch.

The intruder entered by breaking a pane of glass in a storm door and another in the interior door, then reached through the opening to manipulate the lock, she said. The entry was discovered shortly before noon yesterday when Mrs. Wright returned home after a brief absence.

Meanwhile, James Reynolds of E. 4th and Walnut Sts. told police Wednesday night at 11:45 a vandal ripped the ignition wiring from his 1960 model car, removed the ignition switch and bent the gear selector lever while the vehicle was parked in front of the Ceramic Hotel last night.

Topic At Dinner Nov. 15

Community Development Theme Set For Chamber

Gene Garrison of Columbus, manager of the north central division of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will speak at the annual fall membership dinner of the local Chamber Nov. 15 at the Country Club.

Garrison will speak on "'The Businessman's Role in Total Community Development." His address will follow a 6:30 buffet dinner.

Garrison was appointed to his present post in January. He is a graduate of Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla., and has done graduate work at the University of Oklahoma.

He also has studied various courses at the national Chamber's Institute for Organization Management. He is a graduate of the Industrial Development Institute conducted by the American Industrial Development Council.

Before joining the staff of the U. S. Chamber, Garrison served as executive vice president of the Edinburg (Tex.) Chamber and held the same post in the Littlefield (Tex.) Chamber. He also has served as manager of the Kenedy (Tex.) Chamber. He served on the total community development committee of the U. S. Chamber.

As the U. S. Chamber's field representative in this part of the nation, he works with business firms, local and state Chambers and trade and professional associations on various aspects of public affairs.

GENE GARRISON
Columbus Man To Speak.

Dinner arrangements are in charge of the banquet and meetings committee, comprised of John Pinney, chairman, Ray Clendenning, Frank A. Dawson, Elmer Eiferd, Ralph A. Finley and W. W. Irwin.

Today In Washington

It will be the President's first multipoint trip since he campaigned for Democratic concongressional candidates in October 1966.

George Christian, White House press secretary, indicated Johnson would visit troops at Army, Air Force and Navy installations and may also stop at Marine and Coast Guard bases.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is getting a replica of a portrait of former first lady Bess Truman and efforts are being made to get protraits of Presidents John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson and their wives.

John Walker, director of the National Gallery, and a member of the White House Historical Association, which now contracts for such portraits, announced a portrait currently being painted of the late President Kennedy by artist Gardner Cox of Boston will be ready soon, probably by the end of the year.

He said he hoped to get Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and the Johnsons to have their portraits done also.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, facing a shortage of china because of larger banquets for foreign heads of state, has announced it is ordering its first full set of dishes in more than 16 years.

The new china, with 216 place settings, will have a wildflower theme at the suggestion of beautification-minded first lady, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. It will be manufactured by Castleton China, Inc., of New York City.

Tiffany and Co., of New York City has been selected to design the china. The state flower of every state in the Union will be on one of the dessert plates.

The White House Historical Association will foot the bill for the new china. "It will be expensive," said Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the first lady's press secretary.

Cumberland Audit Lists Discrepancies In Funds

NEW CUMBERLAND—A private audit of the city's water and sewage department records is continuing after a fund discrepancy was reported to council here.

Jack Ferlise of Wheeling, a certified public accountant, in a report to Council after the completion of an audit for the fiscal year 1965-66, says his audit cannot account for a total of $2,584.51 in the two funds.

According to the report, $1,302.99 in "unaccountable funds" for the water department and another $1,281.52 in the sewage department cannot be found.

The monies were collected from residents, as water and sewage bills according to the records.

The cash receipts exceed by $2,584.51, the bank deposits for the funds in that particular year.

Ferlise's final report will be sent to the West Virginia Public Service Commission and Magnus and Co., the bonding firm for the financing of the sewage treatment plant and water department improvements.

Ferlise said he will ask the state auditor to reopen the state's audit which reported no discrepancy for the same period.

Still to be completed are audits of the the two funds for the 1966-67 fiscal year, but all the records are not available.

City personnel are in the process of trying to locate such items as deposit slips, vouchers and checks.

The discrepancy is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966. The city's books for that year were audited by the state tax commissioner's office, but no discrepancy was reported.

Officials of the bonding firm have been notified of the discovery.

City officials said all the records which had been compiled during Mayor Jones' administration for 1965-66 were accounted for and the missing records for the 1966-67 fiscal year apparently were lost somewhere in the change of administrations.

Woman's Car Strikes Deer On District Road

A deer, struck by an Aliquippa woman's car on Route 14, had to be destroyed by a game protector, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Helen Strickler, 43, of Aliquippa was headed west on Route 14 about a half - mile west of Route 7 Wednesday night at 6 when the deer ran in front of the 1965 sedan from the south side and was hit, causing moderate damage to the front of the auto. Game Protector Ralph Drake destroyed the injured animal.

Debbie 'Twirls Way' To Additional Awards

Debbie Lynn Stacey, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laird Stacey of 1005 Main St., Wellsville, has won three more awards in NBTA baton twirling competition at Hyer Junior High School in Akron.

She placed first in best appearing military, fifth in intermediate and fifth in fancy strut.

Items Bought By Southern Local Board

SALINEVILLE — Purchases of a ventilating fan, tools and water cooler were approved by the Southern Local School District board of education Wednesday night.

The fan, estimated to cost between $150 and $200, will be used for the book storage room at the high school, which is currently being used for a classroom and is without ventilation.

The board also approved purchase of $99 worth of tools and supplies for the industrial arts department and agreed to pay half of a water cooler for the Franklin School. The other half of the cost of the $186 cooler will be paid by the Home and School Association.

Supt. Thomas Leek reported on five teacher aides which began on the job training in the elementary schools Monday, and said they are doing well and are of real assistance. The five will continue at the school under the Manpower Training Program until Feb. 2.

Supt. Leek said there are currently three combined classes being taught in the system — one at Franklin and two at Wayne School. Two years ago there were 12 such combined classes, he said.

It was announced the reading clinic trailer will be at the Franklin School for six weeks starting Monday.

Fred Johnson and Dominic Sabatino of Summitville, elected to the board Tuesday, attended the meeting at the invitation of Charles Allison, president. The next meeting will be Dec. 13.

Jack Ferlise of Wheeling, a certified public accountant, in a report to Council after the completion of an audit for the fiscal year 1965-66, says his audit cannot account for a total of $2,584.51 in the two funds.

According to the report, $1,302.99 in "unaccountable funds" for the water department and another $1,281.52 in the sewage department cannot be found.

The monies were collected from residents as water and sewage bills according to the records.

The cash receipts exceed by $2,584.51, the bank deposits for the funds in that particular year.

Ferlise's final report will be sent to the West Virginia Public Service Commission and Magnus and Co., the bonding firm for the financing of the sewage treatment plant and water department improvements.

Ferlise said he will ask the state auditor to reopen the state's audit which reported no discrepancy for the same period.

Still to be completed are audits of the the two funds for the 1966-67 fiscal year, but all the records are not available.

City personnel are in the process of trying to locate such items as deposit slips, vouchers and checks.

The discrepancy is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966. The city's books for that year were audited by the state tax commissioner's office, but no discrepancy was reported.

Officials of the bonding firm have been notified of the discovery.

City officials said all the records which had been compiled during Mayor Jones' administration for 1965-66 were accounted for and the missing records for the 1966-67 fiscal year apparently were lost somewhere in the change of administrations.

Woman's Car Strikes Deer On District Road

A deer, struck by an Aliquippa woman's car on Route 14, had to be destroyed by a game protector, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Helen Strickler, 43, of Aliquippa was headed west on Route 14 about a half - mile west of Route 7 Wednesday night at 6 when the deer ran in front of the 1965 sedan from the south side and was hit, causing moderate damage to the front of the auto. Game Protector Ralph Drake destroyed the injured animal.

Debbie 'Twirls Way' To Additional Awards

Debbie Lynn Stacey, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laird Stacey of 1005 Main St., Wellsville, has won three more awards in NBTA baton twirling competition at Hyer Junior High School in Akron.

She placed first in best appearing military, fifth in intermediate and fifth in fancy strut.

Items Bought By Southern Local Board

SALINEVILLE — Purchases of a ventilating fan, tools and water cooler were approved by the Southern Local School District board of education Wednesday night.

The fan, estimated to cost between $150 and $200, will be used for the book storage room at the high school, which is currently being used for a classroom and is without ventilation.

The board also approved purchase of $99 worth of tools and supplies for the industrial arts department and agreed to pay half of a water cooler for the Franklin School. The other half of the cost of the $186 cooler will be paid by the Home and School Association.

Supt. Thomas Leek reported on five teacher aides which began on the job training in the elementary schools Monday, and said they are doing well and are of real assistance. The five will continue at the school under the Manpower Training Program until Feb. 2.

Supt. Leek said there are currently three combined classes being taught in the system — one at Franklin and two at Wayne School. Two years ago there were 12 such combined classes, he said.

It was announced the reading clinic trailer will be at the Franklin School for six weeks starting Monday.

Fred Johnson and Dominic Sabatino of Summitville, elected to the board Tuesday, attended the meeting at the invitation of Charles Allison, president. The next meeting will be Dec. 13.

Film Aims At Informing Youth About VD Problem

Venereal disease in the East Liverpool area is not as prevalent as in major metropolitan districts, but the individual hazard is here and young people especially should be warned about it.

That is the thinking of school, health and civic authorities who are urging attendance at a special movie screening on VD infection next Thursday.

Miss Selma Ladzinski, city health nurse, said East Liverpool "has its share of venereal disease, and is no different from other communities in Ohio."

TO HELP inform the public about the problem and its solution, the East Liverpool Junior Women's Club is sponsoring the movie, "One - Quarter - Million Teen - Agers" at 8 p. m. at Westgate Auditorium.

On Monday night from 7 to 8, club members will distribute leaflets on the VD program in the business section, urging the public to view the film, which will be preceded with a brief lecture by Fred Martich of Akron, district supervisor of the North - East Office of the Department of Health at Cuyahoga Falls. A question - and - answer period will follow the film.

Martich, whose job is to serve as a public health adviser of the VD program for the Public Health Service, specializes with patients with the disease and the eradication of the disease.

Miss Ladzinske said newly - reported VD cases in Ohio from Jan. 1, to July totaled 8,603. New cases of primary syphilis and secondary syphilis totaled 316, and new cases of gonorrhea, 8,287. "It is a fact," she said, "that only about 20 per cent of all infectious syphilis and 10 per cent of gonorrhea are reported to the Public Health Service."

DR. EDITH S. Gilmore, in endorsing the film, stated, "with the new rise in VD in the United States, it is essential that the public be informed of its ways and the film will enlighten both the youth and the adults of our community."

"A healthy community is a happier community," E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce, remarked. "An educational program such as the one being sponsored by the Junior Women's Club needs the support of every citizen."

Assistant School Supt. Carl F. Pelini said, "It's a step in the right direction, and knowing the facts can help solve the national VD problem in our society today."

The Rev. H. Gene Toot, pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, also urges parents and the youth of the community to see the film. "One of the really shocking facts is the extreme youth of those contacting the disease," he pointed out.

MRS. VIRGINIA Smith is serving as chairman of the VD program. Mrs. Vicki Lane is president of the local organization.

The club hopes that the film will be purchased by a local civic group for use in the Tri-State area on a continuing basis for community education.

Washingtonville Picks Ben Snow

WASHINGTONVILLE — Incumbent Mayor Ben Snow became the village's first four-year mayor in nonpartisan voting Tuesday, winning a 19-vote victory over Frank Davidson.

The official vote was:

Snow	112
Davidson	95

An employe of the Mullins Manufacturing Co. in Salem, Snow is completing his second two - year term. Davidson apparently won a seat on village Council as villagers elected two by write-in votes after no candidates filed for the posts.

William Rogers led the Council candidates with six write-in votes, with Davidson getting five and Thomas Tilley and Alfred Atkinson getting three each. Several others received one vote apiece.

John King, unopposed for village clerk, received 148 complimentary votes. A coin toss apparently will have to decide the winner of a two-year term on the Board of Public Affairs. Robert Cole, Carl Creighton and Leroy Jones received one write-in vote each.

For the two four - year terms, Peter Gwynne and Joseph Schaefer got eight write - in votes apiece, while two votes were cast for Mrs. Louise McGowin.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: As a student with JILLIONS of tests, term papers, etc., I have a neat way to code the main subjects in sentences and paragraphs in my books.

I brought two different colored felt tip markers.

I line through the main subjects with one color, and secondary points with the other. The black words can easily be read through these marks and really stand out when I'm reviewing articles for an exam or research for a term paper.

Of course, these are my OWN books or copies of articles. The school or library wouldn't appreciate their books looking like a Christmas tree.

NAN.

Thanks for this one, hon. Yes, it works fine, but BE CAREFUL what you mark because the color does soak through and shows on the other side of some paper.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I do not think the precut diapers serve the purpose for which they were intended, but I have found they make wonderful burp-pads!

D. L. W.

DEAR HELOISE: When I fill my trading stamp book, I dampen the page instead of the stamps, and apply the stamps to the page.

A gold star to you, my dear. I tried it and liked it, too!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Now that fall and rainy days are here, the house seems to get so gloomy.

Since it's financially impossible to redecorate every year, why not buy a package of colored paper at the dime store. Find a pretty shaped leaf, call the children together and make it a fun project.

We have a large glass door in our kitchen that faces the back yard. Right now it's decorated with pretty leaves and a paper squirrel which were taped on. Extra leaves were used to border the kitchen door where kindergarten pictures are on colorful and proud display.

Sure makes for a more cheery atmosphere on those gloomy days. Give the kiddos something to do, too.

BARBARA HILLER.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away your old felt hats. They make wonderful inner soles for bedroom or everyday shoes.

Cut the brim off and measure the soles. You can get a couple of liners from the brim. Then cut the top of the hat up through the middle to cut out several more.

Makes those shoes warm and comfy in cold weather.

CATHERINE HARRIS.

DEAR HELOISE: When using cream cleaning wax on your furniture, use it on your telephone, too.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When making chili dogs for my family, I make the chili first. Then I put the weiners in the chili for the last five or ten minutes of cooking and let simmer.

This way they absorb all that good chili flavor and are much more tasty.

Give it a try and I think you will agree.

MR. C. R.

BPW Club 'On Target' At Dinner Event Here

"Our Federation on Target" was the theme of the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Miss Joan Witt, state corresponding secretary, compared the national federation to a target. She used the bull's - eye to represent the individual member, the first ring to represent the club, the second ring, the state federation and the final ring to represent the national federation.

The comparison brought out the responsibility each area has toward all others to make the whole federation, or target.

The program opened with each member repeating the club pledge and concluded with a presentation of slides on highlights of federation activities during the present club year.

The Federation Committee, in charge of the meeting, carried out the target theme with the use of small targets on each of the side tables with green and gold streamers and candles. The head table held a large arrangement of yellow mums with green-tinted carnations. Green and gold streamers and candles completed the decorations.

During the business session, the club endorsed the showing of the film "One-Quarter-Million Teen - Agers" being sponsored by the Junior Women's Club next Thursday at Westgate School.

Club members were reminded of the meeting of the Speakers of the House at the gas company next Wednesday. The Executive Committee will meet Nov. 29 at The Review.

Chemistry texts used to say that noble gases like helium, neon, krypton and xenon do not combine with other elements. In 1962, chemists succeeded in making xenon combine with fluorine.

Newell Club To Wage War Upon Litter

Scouts and 4-H members will assist in a cleanup campaign being sponsored Friday by the Newell Women's Club.

Mrs. Jean Thornberry, chairman of the club's community improvement program, said cans will be placed on Washington St. for pickup of litter between 10 a.m. and noon.

Mrs. Ann Carnahan will be in charge of the Scouts and Mrs. Emma Renfro the 4-H members.

Following the cleanup, the youngsters will be given a treat at the fire hall. A member of the fire department will supervise burning of the trash, Mrs. Thornberry said.

The cleanup, sponsored by the club twice yearly, will be held again in the spring.

Prince Andrew was the first infant born to a reigning British monarch in 103 years.

Projects Discussed By Group At College

Projects, including a bake sale Saturday from 9 to 11 a. m., were discussed when the Ohio Valley Business College's Fellowship Club met Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Rosemarie Jennings was named chairman of the bake sale.

Other discussions included the refinishing and furnishing of the recreation room and the donation of canned goods for distribution on Thanksgiving. Dominic Alfonso presided.

Beer Ban Rejected

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Voters in Geneva-On-The-Lake Tuesday rejected, 290-162, a local option issue that would have banned the sale of 3.2 per cent beer in the village. Mayor Wilson W. Finley said victory for a group of cottage owners who promoted the issue would have meant a loss of resort business for the village and also would have resulted in bars being closed on Sunday.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: As a student with JILLIONS of tests, term papers, etc., I have a neat way to code the main subjects in sentences and paragraphs in my books.

I brought two different colored felt tip markers.

I line through the main subjects with one color, and secondary points with the other. The black words can easily be read through these marks and really stand out when I'm reviewing articles for an exam or research for a term paper.

Of course, these are my OWN books or copies of articles. The school or library wouldn't appreciate their books looking like a Christmas tree.

NAN.

Thanks for this one, hon. Yes, it works fine, but BE CAREFUL what you mark because the color does soak through and shows on the other side of some paper.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I do not think the precut diapers serve the purpose for which they were intended, but I have found they make wonderful burp-pads! D. L. W.

DEAR HELOISE: When I fill my trading stamp book, I dampen the page instead of the stamps, and apply the stamps to the page.

A gold star to you, my dear. I tried it and liked it, too!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Now that fall and rainy days are here, the house seems to get so gloomy.

Since it's financially impossible to redecorate every year, why not buy a package of colored paper at the dime store. Find a pretty shaped leaf, call the children together and make it a fun project.

We have a large glass door in our kitchen that faces the back yard. Right now it's decorated with pretty leaves and a paper squirrel which were taped on. Extra leaves were used to border the kitchen door where kindergarten pictures are on colorful and proud display.

Sure makes for a more cheery atmosphere on those gloomy days. Give the kiddos something to do, too.

BARBARA HILLER.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away your old felt hats. They make wonderful inner soles for bedroom or everyday shoes.

Cut the brim off and measure the soles. You can get a couple of liners from the brim. Then cut the top of the hat up through the middle to cut out several more.

Makes those shoes warm and comfy in cold weather.

CATHERINE HARRIS.

DEAR HELOISE: When using cream cleaning wax on your furniture, use it on your telephone, too.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: When making chili dogs for my family, I make the chili first. Then I put the weiners in the chili for the last five or ten minutes of cooking and let simmer.

This way they absorb all that good chili flavor and are much more tasty.

Give it a try and I think you will agree.

MR. C. R.

BPW Club 'On Target' At Dinner Event Here

"Our Federation on Target" was the theme of the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Miss Joan Witt, state corresponding secretary, compared the national federation to a target. She used the bull's - eye to represent the individual member, the first ring to represent the club, the second ring, the state federation and the final ring to represent the national federation.

The comparison brought out the responsibility each area has toward all others to make the whole federation, or target.

The program opened with each member repeating the club pledge and concluded with a presentation of slides on highlights of federation activities during the present club year.

The Federation Committee, in charge of the meeting, carried out the target theme with the use of small targets on each of the side tables with green and gold streamers and candles. The head table held a large arrangement of yellow mums with green-tinted carnations. Green and gold streamers and candles completed the decorations.

During the business session, the club endorsed the showing of the film "One-Quarter-Million Teen - Agers" being sponsored by the Junior Women's Club next Thursday at Westgate School.

Club members were reminded of the meeting of the Speakers of the House at the gas company next Wednesday. The Executive Committee will meet Nov. 29 at The Review.

Chemistry texts used to say that noble gases like helium, neon, krypton and xenon do not combine with other elements. In 1962, chemists succeeded in making xenon combine with fluorine.

Newell Club To Wage War Upon Litter

Scouts and 4-H members will assist in a cleanup campaign being sponsored Friday by the Newell Women's Club.

Mrs. Jean Thornberry, chairman of the club's community improvement program, said cans will be placed on Washington St. for pickup of litter between 10 a.m. and noon.

Mrs. Ann Carnahan will be in charge of the Scouts and Mrs. Emma Renfro the 4-H members.

Following the cleanup, the youngsters will be given a treat at the fire hall. A member of the fire department will supervise burning of the trash, Mrs. Thornberry said.

The cleanup, sponsored by the club twice yearly, will be held again in the spring.

King Warns Of Slash In Poverty Fund

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says cutting the federal antipoverty program "would border on criminal irresponsibility and would be an open invitation to violence and social disorder in the streets of our ghettos."

The civil rights leader told newsmen here Wednesday that if winter riots come, "and I fear they will, then it is not the rioters who will be responsible but Congress and the federal government."

Dr. King, who was in Cleveland to help get out the vote for Tuesday's mayoral election, said his next step would be a "two-week retreat" to plan ways to prod the federal government into action.

"We will, if we have to, engage in massive nonviolence which will probably include acts of civil disobedience," King said.

He said a "cadre of 300 hard-core disrupters" will be trained in the tactics of massive nonviolence. These "disrupters" will then go back to their cities and train other units.

King said the object is to hold a "nationwide city-paralyzing demonstration" centered in Washington but including simultaneous demonstrations in 10 other cities.

King said the election of Negroes as mayors of Cleveland and Gary, Ind., represents a "new political fervor among America's Negro citizens."

Cardinal Leger Quits Montreal Archbishop Post

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Paul Emile Cardinal Leger, one of the leading progressives in the Roman Catholic hierarchy, has resigned as archbishop of Montreal to do missionary work among lepers in foreign lands and Pope Paul VI has accepted his resignation.

The announcement by the Vatican today caused some surprise in church circles, since Cardinal Leger at 63 is 12 years below the retirement age for diocesan prelates and his post is an important one.

But Cardinal Leger for a long time has been urging the pontiff to release him from his post. It was believed the Pope's decision was delayed until after the bishops' synod last month.

Another North American cardinal, Archbishop Richard Cushing of Boston, has also long desired to leave his post to do missionary work in Latin America. But Cardinal Cushing is 72 and in frail health, and the Pope has not given his approval.

The Vatican also announced that the Pope's doctors are still giving him antibiotics to combat the slight fever he has been running for three days.

A midday medical bulletin also indicated that the doctors have started removing stitches from the incision made for the Pope's prostate operation.

Bankers Official Urges Tax Hike, Cut In Spending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An American Bankers Association official called for approval of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge and a reduction in federal spending at a news conference here Wednesday.

Dr. Charles Walker, executive vice president and executive manager of the bankers association, said "We have not had the proper leadership from the (federal) Administration."

Walker, here for the two-day Executive Bankers Conference of the Ohio Bankers Association, said "The general economic outlook is good for 1968, but we could have an overheated, inflated economy. That is why we favor a tax increase and a spending cut."

ICC Aides Will Hold Seminars At Akron

AKRON — A seminar on the Interstate Commerce Commission's cost finding procedures and probability sampling will be held here Nov. 27 and 28.

The meetings will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Sheraton Mayflower Hotel.

The seminar, open to the public without charge, should prove of interest to transportation accountants, practitioners and other ratemaking specialists.

Commission speakers will be Harold J. Day of the Bureau of Accounts, who will discuss cost finding theories and their applications by carriers and other industries, and Dr. Arlyn C. Rosander of the Bureau of Economics, who will explain probability sampling and its application to a cost study of Class I and II motor common carriers of general freight during 1968.

Progress Is Reported In Bus Driver Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — A bit of progress was gained Wednesday in the city's transit strike as negotiators for the drivers union and Cincinnati Transit Co. agreed to review issues separating them, a spokesman said.

But hopes of ending the eight-day strike were dim as no new mediation sessions between the company and the Amalgamated Transit Workers Union were scheduled.

Previous negotiating meetings failed to produce any agreements.

Nearly 800 bus drivers and maintenance employes have been off work since their contracts expired.

It has been estimated that by the year 2000 China may have a population of 1.5 billion persons.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Henry R. Hutt, 63, founder and president of Southeast Polymers Co., died Wednesday following an extended illness. Southeast Polymers manufactures latex used primarily for backing by the tufted-textile industry.

Potters, 7-1, Close Season At Alliance, 4-4-1, Tomorrow

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The top four teams are the same, and in the same order. Sandusky, Shelby and Toledo St. Francis are in both Top 10s. But there the resemblance ends. East Liverpool is a case in point. The Potters are 31st in the voting of the writers and 10th in the coaches' voting.

Cleveland St. Joseph's, soundly beaten by East Liverpool and showing an additional loss and a tie, is ranked 20th by the writers, ahead of the Potters, but 22nd and well behind them according to the coaches.

Warren Western Reserve, which beat East Liverpool, is 16th in both polls, but their position relative to the Potters is quite different. Struthers, unbeaten and conquerer of teams such as Boardman and Akron Hoban, is 11th in the AP poll and 23rd in the UPI tally. Hoban, which has a loss and two ties marring its record, is 15th by AP and 33rd by UPI. Lakewood, unbeaten and the top team in Cleveland, is eighth by UPI, 17th by AP. Canton McKinley, with a 6-3 record, is ninth by the coaches, 42nd by the writers.

Aside from the Bulldogs and Struthers, the one over-ranked and the other under-ranked, we feel that the coaches' poll is a little more accurate.

MASSILLON'S triumph over Steubenville has been clouded by the Big Red charges that the Tigers used a videotape machine, expressly prohibited by the state athletic association, during the game. Massillon has admitted that it had such a machine at the game, but did not use it for playbacks during the game. Use of the machine after the game is legal. Steubenville claimed that the machinery cost $8,000, while the Massillon figure was $2,000. Tiger coach Bob Seaman said the videotape would be used in place of a second movie and that many schools in Ohio had such machinery. Even $2,000 is a lot of money to spend for a movie camera. The NCAA thinks so, too, and use of such machines is illegal even at the college level.

ELMER TICE of Stanton Local, with 60 points scored so far this year, is only 10 back of the leader in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference Class A scoring race.

LEON JENKINS of Weirton, who ran for two TDs and passed for another against Oak Glen last week, has been named OVAC AAA back of the week for the performance.

BILL MAZEROSKI, Gene Alley and Roberto Clemente of the Pirates were all named to the "Golden Glove" team selected by the major league managers and coaches. Mazeroski was named for the eighth time, Clemente the seventh and Alley the second. Others selected were Wes Parker at first, Ron Santo at third, Curt Flood and Willie Mays in the outfield. Randy Hundley catching and Bob Gibson pitching. The American League lineup shows George Scott, Bobby Knoop, Jim Fregosi, Brooks Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski, Paul Blair, Al Kaline, Bill Frehan and Jim Kaat.

NUMEROUS FANS writing in to The Sporting News have expressed their disgust with baseball's permitting Charley Finley to move his team out of Kansas City for the greener ($$$) pastures at Oakland. The fans in Oakland love Finley so far, but will sour on him when (not if) he fires Joe DiMaggio, a local idol, as vice president.

THE ANGELS reportedly turned down a Giant offer of Juan Marichal, Jim Ray Hart and Tito Fuentes for Jim Fregosi. Fregosi's good, but not that good.

FORMER PIRATE pticher Bob Friend scored a political upset yesterday in Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) by beating the Democratic incumbent for the position of county controller.

I WON'T TRY to argue what is a sport and what is not (many non-sports appear on the sports page), but recently in South Carolina the state assistant attorney general ordered a stock car race shut down for violating the Sunday Blue Law, even though the law permits athletic sports on Sundays. So in South Carolina, at least, stock car racing is not a sport.

11 Regulars End Potter Careers

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Alliance is 4-4-1, but the losses were to Struthers 22-14, Massillon 20-13, Cuyahoga Falls 30-22 and Akron St. Vincent 15-14, four powerful opponents. Barberton was tied 16-16 and beaten were Akron Central 42-0, Youngstown Cardinal Mooney 26-0, Warren Harding 26-20 and Canton McKinley 20-14. Alliance Coach Mel Knowlton has declined offers to join the tough All-American Conference, noting that his schedule was hard enough already.

The Aviators have a big line and quick backs, according to Potter coach Bob McNea. He says they are a passing team, with quarterback Kurt Utterback, a 177-pound senior, an excellent passer. He jump passes to his ends, Finis Dailey, a 181-pound senior and Bruce Cartwright, a 205-pound senior; and throws long passes to his running backs. Randy Lear, a 160-pound senior and Stan Terrell, a 151-pound junior, are the halfbacks, and Cliff Banks, a 167-pound senior or Lionel Grimes, a 162 - pound senior, will be at fullback. Alliance uses a tight slot offense, according to McNea, and relies on execution rather than tricky formations.

Mike McVay, who injured his right wrist against Cleveland St. Joseph's, will be at quarterback for the Potters if he is able to throw the ball with the wrist injury. If he can't throw, he will go back to halfback and Earl Diddle or Dan Cunningham will play quarterback. If McVay is at quarterback Diddle will play at flanker and Jim Musuraca and Bill Jones will be the running backs. Sam Scott will see action on certain situations as a running back.

BIG BELL WRUNG. Walt (Big Bell) Bellamy of the New York Knicks has a rebound stolen from him by Dave DeBusschere of the Detroit Pistons in a National Basketball Association game in Detroit last night. Dave Bing (21) of the Pistons is in the background. Pistons won 110-106. (UPI telephoto)

Charges Use Of Videotape

Steubenville Formally Protests Massillon Win

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A charge that Massillon used electronic equipment illegally in its 26-16 victory over Steubenville last Friday could have far-reaching repercussions for Ohio high school football.

Steubenville High's athletic board made the protest official today in a letter to Ohio High School Athletic Association Commissioner Paul Landis.

The board had charged Monday that Massillon used a video tape recording device which provides for instant replays in violation of association rules.

"I have talked to all the principals involved and I want more information in writing," Landis said. "I want to give Massillon the opportunity to reply.

"After that, if there is sufficient evidence that the rule was violated, there will be an investigation.

"But we're not going to investigate on the basis of newspaper rumors," Landis said. "From what I am told, it appears the equipment was not used illegally," he added.

He indicated that some of the larger schools in the state had put too much emphasis on winning football games and that he could ask the State Board of Control to rule out use of electronic equipment under any circumstances. Such a move is under consideration, he said.

"The use of this equipment is unfair to any team they have played," Bryan said.

Angelo J. Vaccaro, Steubenville High principal, said his letter of protest contained the names of seven witnesses who claim Massillon used the electronic device for instant replays.

Sam Bell, principal at Massillon, said he had reviewed the charge with head coach Bob Seaman and Dr. James Fry, superintendent of schools in Massillon.

"I am perfectly satisfied that there was no illegal use of the equipment," Bell said. "There was absolutely no playbacks during the game. It was replayed only at halftime."

While Steubenville officials are not asking Massillon to forfeit, they made it clear that the commissioner's course is obvious if he finds the replay rule was violated.

Massillon, Upper Arlington Contend For Mythical Title

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's now or never for Ohio's top-ranked high school football teams as they shoot for the mythical state championship.

Unbeaten Cincinnati Roger Bacon looks like the best to claim the throne if the two frontrunners stumble or are not impressive in their finales. Bacon is ranked third.

The Eagles have lost three times this year and also have a tie but have come fast lately and figure to give Arlington a stern test. The Friday night clash is at a neutral site.

The only blemish on Coach Bob Seaman's Tigers' schedule is a 7-6 loss to Arlington three weeks ago.

Massillon is bidding for its 12th state championship while Arlington and the other clubs in The AP's Top Ten have never won a title. UA came close a year ago and were rated No. 1 until Watterson crushed Coach Marv Moorhead's hopes.

Roger Bacon, which has shut out seven of its foes en route to a 9-0 campaign, has an easier assignment than the others. The Spartans play host to Cincinnati McNicholas, a club that shows a 2-7 record.

In beating Cincinnati Purcell 42-0 last Friday, Bacon assured itself of at least a share of its fifth Greater Cincinnati League championship in the past seven years.

Halfback Mike McKee of unbeaten Newark Catholic gained 227 yards against New Lexington St. Aloysius last week to boost his total yardage to 1,367 in nine games. He also has 116 points.

Unbeaten Lakewood (9 - 0), which has allowed only 28 points this season, is the Lake Erie champion.

Seventh - ranked Sandusky claimed its third straight Buckeye Conference crown with its eighth triumph last weekend. The Blue Streaks' Eddie Williams rushed for 178 yards and scored three touchdowns. Williams, who now has compiled 2,974 yards, is just 85 short of his brother Stew Williams' record.

Columbus Eastmoor racked up its second straight unbeaten campaign and now has won 20 in a row over three years. When Watterson rallied to whip Columbus Hartley 34-23 Friday, it was the sixth straight Central Catholic league title for the Eagles.

Winters May Play For Pitt

Coach Dave Hart said Wednesday senior signal-caller Bob Bazylak will be out of the lineup with a foot fracture and sophomore Frankie Gustine will be sidelined with a shoulder injury.

"Winters has been working the position during scrimmages and has been getting extra work this week," said Hart. "He knows what it's all about."

Hart said he sees some improvement in his Panthers who have won but one game this year. He had praise for the offensive line and said the defense also is showing improvement.

Beau Bell Leaves Post At Southern

Raymond (Beau) Bell, football coach at Southern Local High School for two years, submitted his resignation to the Southern Local Board of Education Wednesday night.

His resignation, accepted by the board, will be effective Jan. 26 — the end of the current semester. Bell is reportedly planning to work with his brother, a golf pro at Medina Country Club in Chicago.

In his first year at Southern Local, his team posted a record of three wins, six losses and a tie. So far this year, the team has a record of two wins and six losses.

Bell has also served as physical education instructor.

Americans Favored In World Cup Golf

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Eighty of the world's best golfers open play today in the 15th World Cup tournament with Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer of the United States big favorites to repeat their 1966 team victory.

While the Americans are overwhelming favorites in the field of 40 national teams for the team title, they expect to get tough competition for individual honors from half a dozen top professionals.

There is no big chunk of prize money in this tournament — only $3,000 for the individual champion—but many of the golfers feel national prestige is at stake in the 72-hole tournament on the par 72, 7,200-yard Club de Golf Mexico course.

Top golfers who may give Nicklaus, the leading pro money winner this year, and Palmer competition for individual honors are Gary Player of South Africa, defending individual champion George Knudson of Canada, Bruce Crampton of Australia, Boz Charles of New Zealand, Juan "Chi Chi" Rodriguez of Puerto Rico and Dave Thomas of Wales.

The course, stretched out to make the longest ever used in World Cup play for the largest number of entries ever, is a narrow, demanding layout an hour from downtown Mexico City.

Palmer, who had his only practice on the course Wednesday during the pro-am when he carded a 76, said he is passing up the Cajun Classic at Lafayette, La., which means Nicklaus will be the 1967 leading money winner on the PGA tour. His victory at the Sahara Open gave him $188,988 in the official winnings. Palmer has won a bit more than $182,000.

"I'm tired," said Palmer, who has never won the international trophy for individual honors although he has played on a record five winning teams. "All I want to do is get through this tournament and then get some rest."

Packers, Potters, Purdue, Penn St. Picks Of Yogis

Coming into the next to last week of the selection season, the Review Grid Yogis mainly stood together this week, with only Tom Futhey turning radical in an attempt to overhaul the leaders.

Five of the games were unanimous choices and none were standoffs.

Everybody went with Columbiana over East Palestine, Lisbon over United, the Cards over the Steelers, Southern Cal over Oregon St. and Purdue over Minnesota. Bob Poole was alone in taking Bowling Green over Ohio U. Futhey and Poole agreed on Beaver Local over Oak Glen and Futhey and Rose Nuzzo were alone with the Browns over the Packers and North Carolina St. over Penn St. Bob Duffy and Bob Shaffer went with Alliance over East Liverpool, while Turk Pierce was with the consensus in every case.

Potters, 7-1, Close Season At Alliance, 4-4-1, Tomorrow

Sports Whirled

The top four teams are the same, and in the same order. Sandusky, Shelby and Toledo St. Francis are in both Top 10s. But there the resemblance ends. East Liverpool is a case in point. The Potters are 31st in the voting of the writers and 10th in the coaches' voting.

Cleveland St. Joseph's, soundly beaten by East Liverpool and showing an additional loss and a tie, is ranked 20th by the writers, ahead of the Potters, but 22nd and well behind them according to the coaches.

Warren Western Reserve, which beat East Liverpool, is 16th in both polls, but their position relative to the Potters is quite different. Struthers, unbeaten and conquerer of teams such as Boardman and Akron Hoban, is 11th in the AP poll and 23rd in the UPI tally. Hoban, which has a loss and two ties marring its record, is 15th by AP and 33rd by UPI. Lakewood, unbeaten and the top team in Cleveland, is eighth by UPI, 17th by AP. Canton McKinley, with a 6-3 record, is ninth by the coaches, 42nd by the writers.

Aside from the Bulldogs and Struthers, the one over-ranked and the other under-ranked, we feel that the coaches' poll is a little more accurate.

MASSILLON'S triumph over Steubenville has been clouded by the Big Red charges that the Tigers used a videotape machine, expressly prohibited by the state athletic association, during the game. Massillon has admitted that it had such a machine at the game, but did not use it for playbacks during the game. Use of the machine after the game is legal. Steubenville claimed that the machinery cost $8,000, while the Massillon figure was $2,000. Tiger coach Bob Seaman said the videotape would be used in place of a second movie and that many schools in Ohio had such machinery. Even $2,000 is a lot of money to spend for a movie camera. The NCAA thinks so, too, and use of such machines is illegal even at the college level.

ELMER TICE of Stanton Local, with 60 points scored so far this year, is only 10 back of the leader in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference Class A scoring race.

LEON JENKINS of Weirton, who ran for two TDs and passed for another against Oak Glen last week, has been named OVAC AAA back of the week for the performance.

BILL MAZEROSKI, Gene Alley and Roberto Clemente of the Pirates were all named to the "Golden Glove" team selected by the major league managers and coaches. Mazeroski was named for the eighth time, Clemente the seventh and Alley the second. Others selected were Wes Parker at first, Ron Santo at third, Curt Flood and Willie Mays in the outfield. Randy Hundley catching and Bob Gibson pitching. The American League lineup shows George Scott, Bobby Knoop, Jim Fregosi, Brooks Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski, Paul Blair, Al Kaline, Bill Frehan and Jim Kaat.

NUMEROUS FANS writing in to The Sporting News have expressed their disgust with baseball's permitting Charley Finley to move his team out of Kansas City for the greener ($$$) pastures at Oakland. The fans in Oakland love Finley so far, but will sour on him when (not if) he fires Joe DiMaggio, a local idol, as vice president.

THE ANGELS reportedly turned down a Giant offer of Juan Marichal, Jim Ray Hart and Tito Fuentes for Jim Fregosi. Fregosi's good, but not that good.

FORMER PIRATE pticher Bob Friend scored a political upset yesterday in Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) by beating the Democratic incumbent for the position of county controller.

I WON'T TRY to argue what is a sport and what is not (many non-sports appear on the sports page), but recently in South Carolina the state assistant attorney general ordered a stock car race shut down for violating the Sunday Blue Law, even though the law permits athletic sports on Sundays. So in South Carolina, at least, stock car racing is not a sport.

11 Regulars End Potter Careers

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters, 7-1 on the year but only 1-1 on the road, travel to Alliance tomorrow night to take on the tough Aviators, a traditional foe.

Alliance is 4-4-1, but the losses were to Struthers 22-14, Massillon 20-13, Cuyahoga Falls 30-22 and Akron St. Vincent 15-14, four powerful opponents. Barberton was tied 16-16 and beaten were Akron Central 42-0, Youngstown Cardinal Mooney 26-0, Warren Harding 26-20 and Canton McKinley 20-14. Alliance Coach Mel Knowlton has declined offers to join the tough All-American Conference, noting that his schedule was hard enough already.

The Aviators have a big line and quick backs, according to Potter coach Bob McNea. He says they are a passing team, with quarterback Kurt Utterback, a 177-pound senior, an excellent passer. He jump passes to his ends, Finis Dailey, a 181-pound senior and Bruce Cartwright, a 205-pound senior; and throws long passes to his running backs. Randy Lear, a 160-pound senior and Stan Terrell, a 151-pound junior, are the halfbacks, and Cliff Banks, a 167-pound senior or Lionel Grimes, a 162 - pound senior, will be at fullback. Alliance uses a tight slot offense, according to McNea, and relies on execution rather than tricky formations.

Mike McVay, who injured his right wrist against Cleveland St. Joseph's, will be at quarterback for the Potters if he is able to throw the ball with the wrist injury. If he can't throw, he will go back to halfback and Earl Diddle or Dan Cunningham will play quarterback. If McVay is at quarterback Diddle will play at flanker and Jim Musuraca and Bill Jones will be the running backs. Sam Scott will see action on certain situations as a running back.

Bill Hopper is still favoring an injured ankle, but is expected to be ready by tomorrow. The rest of the squad is in good shape physically.

Charges Use Of Videotape

Steubenville Formally Protests Massillon Win

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A charge that Massillon used electronic equipment illegally in its 26-16 victory over Steubenville last Friday could have far-reaching repercussions for Ohio high school football.

Steubenville High's athletic board made the protest official today in a letter to Ohio High School Athletic Association Commissioner Paul Landis.

The board had charged Monday that Massillon used a video tape recording device which provides for instant replays in violation of association rules.

Massillon denied the charge.

Landis, apparently irate over the incident, said he would ask Massillon to reply in writing to the charge before taking any action.

The use of television relay or monitor equipment is prohibited at any time during the playing of a game when used for coaching purposes — except at halftime. The penalty is forfeiture of the game.

"I have talked to all the principals involved and I want more information in writing," Landis said. "I want to give Massillon the opportunity to reply.

"After that, if there is sufficient evidence that the rule was violated, there will be an investigation.

"But we're not going to investigate on the basis of newspaper rumors," Landis said. "From what I am told, it appears the equipment was not used illegally," he added.

He indicated that some of the larger schools in the state had put too much emphasis on winning football games and that he could ask the State Board of Control to rule out use of electronic equipment under any circumstances. Such a move is under consideration, he said.

Steubenville Coach Abe Bryan said he was not requesting that Massillon forfeit its victory.

"The use of this equipment is unfair to any team they have played," Bryan said.

Angelo J. Vaccaro, Steubenville High principal, said his letter of protest contained the names of seven witnesses who claim Massillon used the electronic device for instant replays.

Sam Bell, principal at Massillon, said he had reviewed the charge with head coach Bob Seaman and Dr. James Fry, superintendent of schools in Massillon.

"I am perfectly satisfied that there was no illegal use of the equipment," Bell said. "There was absolutely no playbacks during the game. It was replayed only at halftime."

While Steubenville officials are not asking Massillon to forfeit, they made it clear that the commissioner's course is obvious if he finds the replay rule was violated.

Toronto Takes First Behind Oldster Bower

By The Associated Press

It was Johnny Bower's umpteenth birthday and he celebrated by leading the elderly Toronto Maple Leafs to the top of the National Hockey League's East Division.

Bower, who is 43 if you believe the NHL record book, 44 if you believe him or 45 if you believe others, kicked out 38 Oakland shots as the Maple Leafs defeated the Seals 6-1 Wednesday night.

Elsewhere, slumping Stan Mikita scored two goals as Chicago tripped Montreal 3-2, Minnesota slugged St. Louis 5-1, and Pittsburgh battled Philadelphia to a 1-1 standoff.

Then Toronto packed three goals into the second period with Murray Oliver, Allan Stanley and Jim Pappin clicking. After that Bower coasted.

The victory was only the third of the season for Chicago and the first at home in five games for the Hawks, defending NHL champions.

Derek Sanderson scored two of Boston's goals as the Bruins ripped the Rangers. Sanderson's first goal came while he was killing a penalty and he scored the second just six seconds into the third period.

Dave Balon fired a pair of goals for Minnesota as the North Stars turned in their biggest scoring night to beat St. Louis. Defenseman Bob Woytowich assisted on three of the Minnesota goals.

Ab McDonald converted Andy Bathgate's rebound for Pittsburgh's tying goal against Philadelphia in the final five minutes of play. The Flyers and goalie Bernie Parent had nursed a 1-0 lead provided by Bill Sutherland's second period goal until McDonald tied it.

Newcomer Caldwell Lifts Americans Over Pipers

By The Associated Press

Jim Caldwell's rookie season in the American Basketball Association is off to a much better start than his short-lived venture in the National Basketball Association.

In his first game with New Jersey of the ABA after being cut by the NBA New York Knicks, Caldwell scored 14 points and pulled down 15 rebounds in the Americans' 120-97 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday night.

The 6-foot-10 center, who signed Monday, got 12 of his rebounds in the first half as New Jersey took a 41-38 lead. Tony Jackson, was the high scorer with 33 points for the Americans. Chico Vaughn had 26 for the Pipers.

In other games, Indiana beat New Orleans 109-101, Minnesota topped Kentucky 106-92, Denver whipped Oakland 118-97 and Anaheim edged Houston 104-100.

Bob Netolicky topped Indiana with 25 points while James Jones had 26 for New Orleans. The Buccaneers moved within three points late in the game, but the Pacers pulled away in the final minute.

Mel Daniels scored 25 points for Minnesota and also hauled in 22 rebounds as the Muskies took an early lead and held onto it without trouble. Darrell Carrior scored 20 points for the Colonels.

Six quick points by rookie Julian Hammond broke open a close game and Denver pulled away for its win over Oakland before 6,026, Denver's largest turnout of the season.

Hammond finished with 23 points, the same as Wayne Hightower although Lefty Thomas was high with 26. LaVern Tart led Oakland with 31.

Small Caliber Bullet Egan Shoots Down Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

Guard Johnny Egan—listed in the National Basketball Association guide as 5-foot-11, making him the league's smallest player—gunned in 26 points Wednesday night and helped the Baltimore Bullets snap a six-game losing streak with a 122-100 victory over the Royals.

St. Louis, hotter than a pistol in the Western Division, won its 13th game in 14 starts, 111-96 over Seattle; Detroit edged New York 110-108 and Philadelphia downed San Diego 129-114 in other scheduled NBA games.

Egan sparked the Bullets to a 15-0 burst in the final three minutes of the third quarter as they built up an 87-71 lead at the end of the period. He then scored 17 of his points in the final quarter as the Bullets coasted home.

Dick Snyder pumped in 21 points, Zelmo Beatty 20 and Len Wilkens 18 for St. Louis, which broke a 16-16 tie midway in the first period and had no trouble from there on. Walt Hazard topped the Supersonics with 20.

Bob Rule of Seattle and the Hawks' Gene Tormohlen were ejected for fighting near the end of the first half.

Detroit surged from a five-point deficit, 84-79, after three quarters to an 11-point lead, 110-99, with 1:34 left and then held on to beat the Knickerbockers. Dave Bing led Detroit with 24 points. New York's Willis Reed led all scorers with 28.

Philadelphia was paced over San Diego by Billy Cunningham's 33 points, including 10 points in the last quarter after the Rockets had rallied to within 104-102 with eight minutes left. John Block led San Diego with 24 points.

Several Teams Contend For Penna. Grid Honors

Could it be John Harris High School of Harrisburg? Or Mount Lebanon? Or Pittston Area? Or maybe Bishop Egan of Levittown?

It could be any one of these teams, or it could be one of several others sporting unblemished records, with the season almost complete.

John Harris, riding the crest of the state's longest winning streak at 33, has made believers out of a lot of Central Pennsylvania foes. The Pioneers are going for their seventh straight Central Penn League Championship.

Mount Lebanon, with 20 straight victories, is looking for its second straight Class AA championship in the power filled WPIAL. If New Castle, the only other unbeaten Class AA team in the league, wins this week, a title game wlil be played at Pitt Stadium on Thanksgiving Day.

It's certainly possible that New Castle is tops in the state. The Red Hurricanes at least will have an opportunity to prove they're "best in the west" if they can get by Ellwood City Friday.

Pittston Area certainly has to be considered one of the best, if not THE best, in the eastern half of the state. The Patriots are well on their way to the northern division championship in the East Penn Conference.

Shikellamy of Sunbury and Mount Carmel are the major contenders for the southern division crown. The two unbeaten elevens clash at Mount Carmel Friday.

Bishop Egan doesn't play a team out of its own bailiwick, but it certainly appears to be the class of Philadelphia schools —public and Catholic. Egan is favored to win its second consecutive city championship.

Tickets For Super Bowl In Miami On Sale Today

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tickets went up for grabs today for pro football's Super Bowl game, with virtually certain prospects that it will be the first game in history to gross in excess of $3 million.

Inaugurated last January in the Los Angeles Coliseum, the playoff between National and American Football League champions was transferred to Miami's Orange Bowl and will be played Jan. 14.

The initial game was a disappointment, financially and artistically. Only 63,036 fans attended and the NFL's Green Bay Packers routed the Kansas City Chiefs 35-10.

An expected sellout of the 75,546-seat Orange Bowl would bring in $796,822. Television and radio revenue, up this year from $2 million to $2.5 million, would make the total gross $3,296,822.

This would top by more than one-half million the $2,760,260 grossed at Los Angeles.

In a release to a news conference here, football Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced that public ticket sales would be handled by the Orange Bowl committee and that the 13,000 holders of season tickets for the Miami Dolphin games would be given priorities in ticket purchases.

The 52,450 seats between the goal lines were priced at $12. Another 14,423 behind the goal lines will be $8 and end zone seats $6. Lower priced tickets will be placed on public sale at the Orange Bowl starting Nov. 27.

Approximatedly 55,000 tickets will be available to the public. 34,000 by mail order and 201,000 at the windows. The two competing teams will be allocated 5,000 tickets each and the other pro clubs will receive additional priorities.

Players and coaches of the winning team will receive $15,000 each. Losing players and coaches will get $7,500. Of the remaining net receipts, 50 per cent will go to the player benefit plans of the two leagues, five per cent to each competing club, 10 per cent to each league office, and 20 per cent to the commissioner's office.

The game, to be televised and broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System, will be blacked out within a 75-mile radius of Miami.

Oak Glen Tickets Now Available

Tickets for the Oak Glen-Beaver Local football game to be played at Newell Memorial Stadium on Friday at 8 p.m. are on sale at Herche's Drug Stores in Chester, Newell, and New Cumberland.

This is the last game of the season for both schools. The ticket office will be open at the stadium at 5 o'clock. Gates will open at 6 o'clock.

French Race Good Prep For Laurel

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — More thoroughbreds have come directly from the Arc de Triomphe run each October in Paris to the winner's circle at the Washington, D.C., International than from any other stakes ever leading to the Laurel classic.

Two horses — Worden II in 1953 and Diatome in 1965 — finished third in France's race and it set them up for Laurel scores. Also, Behiston, who ran fourth in the Arc last fall, came to the International for an upset victory. Now there is another Arc third finisher here for the International.

It's England's Ribocco, regarded as one of the finest prospects to come from Britain since Wilwyn took the first running of John Schaprio's global classic in 1952.

Mets Get Shamsky From Reds

The 26-year-old Shamsky, who once hit four consecutive homers for the Reds, comes to the Mets in exchange for 31-year-old infielder Bob Johnson.

"We traded age for power," said Bing Devine, general manager of the Mets. "Johnson did a good job for us, but we have few left-handed hitters and we think Shamsky will help our bench."

Johnson hit .348 last season compared to Shamsky's .197, but the Mets believe Shamsky can hit the long ball for them.

Milt Morin May Play For Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Milt Morin, the Cleveland Browns' tight end who has been sidelined all season because of a knee injury, is due to be removed from the injured list before the game Sunday against the Green Bay Packers in Milwaukee.

Morin, who was injured Aug. 19 in an exhibition game in Los Angeles, ran well and made some fine pass grabs in the Browns' first practice of the week Wednesday.

"I'm going to go all out—cutting and all the rest—in practice this week," Morin said. "I'll give the knee a real test before they put me on the active list."

Coach Blanton Collier said he doesn't plan to start Morin against the Packers, but hopes to use him some on offense and on some of the specialty teams.

The Browns will be seeking their first victory in five games with the Packers, including the 1965 Nttional Football League championship game.

Leroy Keyes Top Scorer In College

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Keyes of Purdue leads the country's major college football players in scoring with 90 points on 15 touchdowns, statistics released today by the NCAA showed.

Keyes stands a good chance of becoming the first Big Ten player to win the scoring crown since Tom Harmon did in 1939 and 1940. Butch Colson of East Carolina is second with 72 points and Lee Jones of Buffalo is third with 66.

Gerald Warren of North Carolina State leads the kick scorers with 58 points on 19 extra points and 13 field goals.

Toronto Takes First Behind Oldster Bower

By The Associated Press

It was Johnny Bower's umpteenth birthday and he celebrated by leading the elderly Toronto Maple Leafs to the top of the National Hockey League's East Division.

Bower, who is 43 if you believe the NHL record book, 44 if you believe him or 45 if you believe others, kicked out 38 Oakland shots as the Maple Leafs defeated the Seals 6-1 Wednesday night.

Combined with Boston's 6-3 romp over New York, the victory lifted the Stanley Cup champion Leafs into first place, one point in front of the Rangers.

Elsewhere, slumping Stan Mikita scored two goals as Chicago tripped Montreal 3-2, Minnesota slugged St. Louis 5-1, and Pittsburgh battled Philadelphia to a 1-1 standoff.

Then Toronto packed three goals into the second period with Murray Oliver, Allan Stanley and Jim Pappin clicking. After that Bower coasted.

Scoring champ Mikita, hampered by injuries, had managed just one goal in Chicago's first nine games but broke loose for a pair against the crippled Canadiens.

The victory was only the third of the season for Chicago and the first at home in five games for the Hawks, defending NHL champions.

Derek Sanderson scored two of Boston's goals as the Bruins ripped the Rangers. Sanderson's first goal came while he was killing a penalty and he scored the second just six seconds into the third period.

Dave Balon fired a pair of goals for Minnesota as the North Stars turned in their biggest scoring night to beat St. Louis. Defenseman Bob Woytowich assisted on three of the Minnesota goals.

Ab McDonald converted Andy Bathgate's rebound for Pittsburgh's tying goal against Philadelphia in the final five minutes of play. The Flyers and goalie Bernie Parent had nursed a 1-0 lead provided by Bill Sutherland's second period goal until McDonald tied it.

Tickets For Super Bowl In Miami On Sale Today

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tickets went up for grabs today for pro football's Super Bowl game, with virtually certain prospects that it will be the first game in history to gross in excess of $3 million.

Inaugurated last January in the Los Angeles Coliseum, the playoff between National and American Football League champions was transferred to Miami's Orange Bowl and will be played Jan. 14.

The initial game was a disappointment, financially and artistically. Only 63,036 fans attended and the NFL's Green Bay Packers routed the Kansas City Chiefs 35-10.

An expected sellout of the 75,546-seat Orange Bowl would bring in $796,822. Television and radio revenue, up this year from $2 million to $2.5 million, would make the total gross $3,296,822.

This would top by more than one-half million the $2,760,260 grossed at Los Angeles.

In a release to a news conference here, football Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced that public ticket sales would be handled by the Orange Bowl committee and that the 13,000 holders of season tickets for the Miami Dolphin games would be given priorities in ticket purchases.

The 52,450 seats between the goal lines were priced at $12. Another 14,423 behind the goal lines will be $8 and end zone seats $6. Lower priced tickets will be placed on public sale at the Orange Bowl starting Nov. 27.

Approximatedly 55,000 tickets will be available to the public, 34,000 by mail order and 201,000 at the windows. The two competing teams will be allocated 5,000 tickets each and the other pro clubs will receive additional priorities.

Players and coaches of the winning team will receive $15,000 each. Losing players and coaches will get $7,500. Of the remaining net receipts, 50 per cent will go to the player benefit plans of the two leagues, five per cent to each competing club, 10 per cent to each league office, and 20 per cent to the commissioner's office.

The game, to be televised and broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System, will be blacked out within a 75-mile radius of Miami.

Oak Glen Tickets Now Available

Tickets for the Oak Glen-Beaver Local football game to be played at Newell Memorial Stadium on Friday at 8 p.m. are on sale at Herche's Drug Stores in Chester, Newell, and New Cumberland.

This is the last game of the season for both schools. The ticket office will be open at the stadium at 5 o'clock. Gates will open at 6 o'clock.

Newcomer Caldwell Lifts Americans Over Pipers

By The Associated Press

Jim Caldwell's rookie season in the American Basketball Association is off to a much better start than his short-lived venture in the National Basketball Association.

In his first game with New Jersey of the ABA after being cut by the NBA New York Knicks, Caldwell scored 14 points and pulled down 15 rebounds in the Americans' 120-97 victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday night.

The 6-foot-10 center, who signed Monday, got 12 of his rebounds in the first half as New Jersey took a 41-38 lead. Tony Jackson, was the high scorer with 33 points for the Americans. Chico Vaughn had 26 for the Pipers.

In other games, Indiana beat New Orleans 109-101, Minnesota topped Kentucky 106-92, Denver whipped Oakland 118-97 and Anaheim edged Houston 104-100.

Bob Netolicky topped Indiana with 25 points while James Jones had 26 for New Orleans. The Buccaneers moved within three points late in the game, but the Pacers pulled away in the final minute.

Mel Daniels scored 25 points for Minnesota and also hauled in 22 rebounds as the Muskies took an early lead and held onto it without trouble. Darrell Carrior scored 20 points for the Colonels.

Six quick points by rookie Julian Hammond broke open a close game and Denver pulled away for its win over Oakland before 6,026, Denver's largest turnout of the season.

Hammond finished with 23 points, the same as Wayne Hightower although Lefty Thomas was high with 26. LaVern Tart led Oakland with 31.

Small Caliber Bullet Egan Shoots Down Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

Guard Johnny Egan—listed in the National Basketball Association guide as 5-foot-11, making him the league's smallest player—gunned in 26 points Wednesday night and helped the Baltimore Bullets snap a six-game losing streak with a 122-100 victory over the Royals.

St. Louis, hotter than a pistol in the Western Division, won its 13th game in 14 starts, 111-96 over Seattle; Detroit edged New York 110-108 and Philadephia downed San Diego 129-114 in other scheduled NBA games.

Egan sparked the Bullets to a 15-0 burst in the final three minutes of the third quarter as they built up an 87-71 lead at the end of the period. He then scored 17 of his points in the final quarter as the Bullets coasted home.

Dick Snyder pumped in 21 points, Zelmo Beatty 20 and Len Wilkens 18 for St. Louis, which broke a 16-16 tie midway in the first period and had no trouble from there on. Walt Hazard topped the Supersonics with 20.

Bob Rule of Seattle and the Hawks' Gene Tormohlen were ejected for fighting near the end of the first half.

Detroit surged from a five-point deficit, 84-79, after three quarters to an 11-point lead, 110-99, with 1:34 left and then held on to beat the Knickerbockers. Dave Bing led Detroit with 24 points. New York's Willis Reed led all scorers with 28.

Philadelphia was paced over San Diego by Billy Cunningham's 33 points, including 10 points in the last quarter after the Rockets had rallied to within 104-102 with eight minutes left. John Block led San Diego with 24 points.

Several Teams Contend For Penna. Grid Honors

Could it be John Harris High School of Harrisburg? Or Mount Lebanon? Or Pittston Area? Or maybe Bishop Egan of Levittown?

It could be any one of these teams, or it could be one of several others sporting unblemished records, with the season almost complete.

John Harris, riding the crest of the state's longest winning streak at 33, has made believers out of a lot of Central Pennsylvania foes. The Pioneers are going for their seventh straight Central Penn League Championship.

Mount Lebanon, with 20 straight victories, is looking for its second straight Class AA championship in the power filled WPIAL. If New Castle, the only other unbeaten Class AA team in the league, wins this week, a title game wlil be played at Pitt Stadium on Thanksgiving Day.

It's certainly possible that New Castle is tops in the state. The Red Hurricanes at least will have an opportunity to prove they're "best in the west" if they can get by Ellwood City Friday.

Pittston Area certainly has to be considered one of the best, if not THE best, in the eastern half of the state. The Patriots are well on their way to the northern division championship in the East Penn Conference.

Shikellamy of Sunbury and Mount Carmel are the major contenders for the southern division crown. The two unbeaten elevens clash at Mount Carmel Friday.

Bishop Egan doesn't play a team out of its own bailiwick, but it certainly appears to be the class of Philadelphia schools —public and Catholic. Egan is favored to win its second consecutive city championship.

French Race Good Prep For Laurel

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — More thoroughbreds have come directly from the Arc de Triomphe run each October in Paris to the winner's circle at the Washington, D.C., International than from any other stakes ever leading to the Laurel classic.

Yet, never has an International winner been a winner in the Arc de Triomphe.

Two horses — Worden II in 1953 and Diatome in 1965 — finished third in France's race and it set them up for Laurel scores. Also, Behiston, who ran fourth in the Arc last fall, came to the International for an upset victory. Now there is another Arc third finisher here for the International.

It's England's Ribocco, regarded as one of the finest prospects to come from Britain since Wilwyn took the first running of John Schaprio's global classic in 1952.

Mets Get Shamsky From Reds

"We traded age for power," said Bing Devine, general manager of the Mets. "Johnson did a good job for us, but we have few left-handed hitters and we think Shamsky will help our bench."

Johnson hit .348 last season compared to Shamsky's .197, but the Mets believe Shamsky can hit the long ball for them.

Milt Morin May Play For Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Milt Morin, the Cleveland Browns' tight end who has been sidelined all season because of a knee injury, is due to be removed from the injured list before the game Sunday against the Green Bay Packers in Milwaukee.

Morin, who was injured Aug. 19 in an exhibition game in Los Angeles, ran well and made some fine pass grabs in the Browns' first practice of the week Wednesday.

"I'm going to go all out—cutting and all the rest—in practice this week," Morin said. "I'll give the knee a real test before they put me on the active list."

Coach Blanton Collier said he doesn't plan to start Morin against the Packers, but hopes to use him some on offense and on some of the specialty teams.

The Browns will be seeking their first victory in five games with the Packers, including the 1965 Nttional Football League championship game.

Leroy Keyes Top Scorer In College

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Keyes of Purdue leads the country's major college football players in scoring with 90 points on 15 touchdowns, statistics released today by the NCAA showed.

Keyes stands a good chance of becoming the first Big Ten player to win the scoring crown since Tom Harmon did in 1939 and 1940. Butch Colson of East Carolina is second with 72 points and Lee Jones of Buffalo is third with 66.

Gerald Warren of North Carolina State leads the kick scorers with 58 points on 19 extra points and 13 field goals.

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

THE SAME LAW THAT SETS FEDERAL auto construction safety standards also creates nationwide procedures for auto drivers too. Possible first steps: tougher driving licensing laws, mandatory drunk tests for suspects, required yearly auto safety inspections!

IN 1966, 24.6% OF ALL U.S. Families owned two or more cars.

PERSONS WITH POOR DRIVING RECORDS are nearly four times as likely to be involved in a fatal wreck as a "clean" slate driver.

THE PASSING ABILITY OF A CAR traveling 50 mph with 2 occupants, is reduced 17% when its engine needs a tuneup, and another 3% when it is fully loaded. Please be careful when passing!

REMEMBER THAT NEW CAR SMELL? It's one of the extras you get when you take delivery of your very own, brand new Dodge from M & A MOTORS DODGE, 570 Broadway Ave., Downtown E. Liverpool. Isn't it about time you had a new car? Got Dodge Fever? Stop in and get the cure — a New 1968 Dodge from M & A Dodge Fever Relievers.

FATAL DRIVING BLUNDER NO. 21: Teach the kids to drive as early as possible — let them sit on your lap as you drive!

FEDERAL AUTO CONSTRUCTION STANDARDS for 1968 model cars will be the death knell for several import cars which can't or won't meet the standards. One domestic won't make it either, the Amphicar, which goes on land or water. Engineering problems just too great.

THE COACH'S CORNER

by BOB McNEA

It sure is an enjoyable feeling to have a 20-0 lead over a team favored to defeat you. St. Joseph had a very fine personnel. It was as good as any we have faced. We had planned to be in wide formations which would give the type of pass defense they use to be stretched to a great degree to allow our outside attack to go. When they made a mistake by supporting on play-action passes, our receivers were wide open and three touchdowns resulted. Mike McVay did not pass well as he can as he hurt his right thumb during the game and could not grip the ball very well the 2nd half. This might be a problem for him again this week. It was a very pleasant sight to see Zeb Boyd make those tackles on the kick off and Mike Jackson blocking St. Joe's punt. This shows real hustle.

The last time a Potter team defeated Alliance at Alliance, none of our present football squad were entered in school yet and Jim Potts, our defensive backfield coach, was the outstanding quarterback. Jim can chide the "boys" that they will have to show him. Will this year's team do what no other East Liverpool team could do in the last twelve years. Come to think of it, that is a long time. The last time this season we left home and went North we did not come home in a very happy frame of mind. I would not want it to happen twice in one season.

Alliance is a good team. Before the season they tied Steubenville Public in a scrimmage game, beat Canton McKinley and almost beat Massillon. Their ends and tackles are big but their backs are smaller and very quick. Their passing attack as usual is outstanding. They have played some of the best teams in the state and are used to good competition. We defeated them more decisively last year than any them they played. This is a revenge game for them. We can expect a fired up team as this is the seniors last game at Alliance. We expect the Potters will be ready.

THE COACH'S CORNER

by BOB McNEA

It sure is an enjoyable feeling to have a 20-0 lead over a team favored to defeat you. St. Joseph had a very fine personnel. It was as good as any we have faced. We had planned to be in wide formations which would give the type of pass defense they use to be stretched to a great degree to allow our outside attack to go. When they made a mistake by supporting on play-action passes, our receivers were wide open and three touchdowns resulted. Mike McVay did not pass well as he can as he hurt his right thumb during the game and could not grip the ball very well the 2nd half. This might be a problem for him again this week. It was a very pleasant sight to see Zeb Boyd make those tackles on the kick off and Mike Jackson blocking St. Joe's punt. This shows real hustle.

The last time a Potter team defeated Alliance at Alliance, none of our present football squad were entered in school yet and Jim Potts, our defensive backfield coach, was the outstanding quarterback. Jim can chide the "boys" that they will have to show him. Will this year's team do what no other East Liverpool team could do in the last twelve years. Come to think of it, that is a long time. The last time this season we left home and went North we did not come home in a very happy frame of mind. I would not want it to happen twice in one season.

Alliance is a good team. Before the season they tied Steubenville Public in a scrimmage game, beat Canton McKinley and almost beat Massillon. Their ends and tackles are big but their backs are smaller and very quick. Their passing attack as usual is outstanding. They have played some of the best teams in the state and are used to good competition. We defeated them more decisively last year than any them they played. This is a revenge game for them. We can expect a fired up team as this is the seniors last game at Alliance. We expect the Potters will be ready.

Waynesburg Falls To 5th In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

North Dakota State's 41-7 victory over Morningside in its season finals coupled with Waynesburg's unexpected 7-0 setback by Fairmont, W.Va. has enabled the Bison from Fargo, N.D. to replace the Yellow Jackets in second place in The Associated Press' small-college football poll today.

San Diego State, idle last week, maintained its solid lead in the latest voting by a national panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday.

The Aztecs collected six votes for first-place and 143 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc. San Diego State, 7-0, has an over-all winning streak of 23 games.

North Dakota State, completing its regular campaign with a 9-0 mark, advanced one position. The Bison drew 127 points, including 30 for three first-place votes. ND State will play in the Pecan Bowl Dec. 16 in Abilene, Tex.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1.	San Diego State (6)	143
2.	North Dakota St. (3)	127
3.	Eastern Kentucky (2)	190
4.	New Mex. Highlands (1)	75
5.	Waynesburg	65
6.	Texas at Arlington	59
7.	Lamar Tech	40
8.	No. Michigan	37
9.	Texas A&I	23
10.	Southwest Texas St.	22

Mike Garrett Offensive AFL Player

By The Associated Press

Mike Garrett's spontaneous feet don't hurt much any more but now the New York Jets' defensive line isn't feeling very good.

Garrett shredded the Jets' front four for 192 yards in 23 carries last Sunday as Kansas City routed New York 42-18. The performance made Garrett The Associated Press' choice as American Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

"I felt better spiritually and physically than I have all year," said Garrett, after his slants had run the Jets ragged. The 1965 Heisman Trophy winner has been troubled by sore toes and banged up ankles this season.

"They still hurt when I stub my toe," Garrett went on, "'but I think my feet feel great again." They were great against the Jets with a variety of slices and cuts gaining yardage in huge chunks.

His baffling moves had the Jets lunging and grabbing but rarely stopping him. "Some of it is artistic," said Garrett of his moves, "some of it is spontaneous."

Then he thought a moment. "Most of it," he smiled, "'is spontaneous."

Garrett's running moved into second place among AFL rushers behind Boston's Jim Nance, who had another big day in the Patriots' 18-7 victory over Houston.

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP)—Kenyon, which finished the season with a 6-3-1 record, has accepted an invitation to play in the NCAA Mid-Eastern College Division Soccer Championships at Wheaton, Ill., Nov. 17-18.

Waynesburg Falls To 5th In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

North Dakota State's 41-7 victory over Morningside in its season finals coupled with Waynesburg's unexpected 7-0 setback by Fairmont, W.Va. has enabled the Bison from Fargo, N.D. to replace the Yellow Jackets in second place in The Associated Press' small-college football poll today.

San Diego State, idle last week, maintained its solid lead in the latest voting by a national panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday.

The Aztecs collected six votes for first-place and 143 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc. San Diego State, 7-0, has an over-all winning streak of 23 games.

North Dakota State, completing its regular campaign with a 9-0 mark, advanced one position. The Bison drew 127 points, including 30 for three first-place votes. ND State will play in the Pecan Bowl Dec. 16 in Abilene, Tex.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1.	San Diego State (6)	143
2.	North Dakota St. (3)	127
3.	Eastern Kentucky (2)	190
4.	New Mex. Highlands (1)	75
5.	Waynesburg	65
6.	Texas at Arlington	59
7.	Lamar Tech	40
8.	No. Michigan	37
9.	Texas A&I	23
10.	Southwest Texas St.	22

Mike Garrett Offensive AFL Player

By The Associated Press

Mike Garrett's spontaneous feet don't hurt much any more but now the New York Jets' defensive line isn't feeling very good.

Garrett shredded the Jets' front four for 192 yards in 23 carries last Sunday as Kansas City routed New York 42-18. The performance made Garrett The Associated Press' choice as American Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

"I felt better spiritually and physically than I have all year," said Garrett, after his slants had run the Jets ragged. The 1965 Heisman Trophy winner has been troubled by sore toes and banged up ankles this season.

"They still hurt when I stub my toe," Garrett went on, "but I think my feet feel great again." They were great against the Jets with a variety of slices and cuts gaining yardage in huge chunks.

His baffling moves had the Jets lunging and grabbing but rarely stopping him. "Some of it is artistic," said Garrett of his moves, "some of it is spontaneous."

Then he thought a moment. "Most of it," he smiled, "is spontaneous."

Garrett's running moved into second place among AFL rushers behind Boston's Jim Nance, who had another big day in the Patriots' 18-7 victory over Houston.

Accepts Soccer Bid

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP)—Kenyon, which finished the season with a 6-3-1 record, has accepted an invitation to play in the NCAA Mid-Eastern College Division Soccer Championships at Wheaton, Ill., Nov. 17-18.

Junior Editors Quiz on Blackbirds

QUESTION: What is the difference between a grackle and a blackbird?

ANSWER: Scientists do not recognize a grouping called blackbirds. Most of the black-colored birds we see belong to the family Icteridae, which also includes such vividly colored birds as the bobolink, meadow lark and Baltimore oriole. In the lower right, you see four common birds popularly called blackbirds. Grackles, one of the four birds illustrated, are just one type of blackbird. The purple grackle is black, with an irridescent sheen; his tail is longer than the others and he walks along the ground. Grackles are handsome social birds and seem to enjoy each other's company. Nature lovers enjoy seeing grackles gather in huge flocks in the fall, preparing to migrate south. They know they will see the chattering, long-tailed flocks again in the spring when the grackles return.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

On this date in 1918, Kaiser Wilhelm abdicated and the German Republic was proclaimed.

On this date:

In 1923, 14 Nazis were wounded as federal troops broke up a march of Adolf Hitler's Storm Troopers in Munich, Germany.

In 1933, President Franklin D. Roosevelt created the Civil Works Administration to provide jobs for more than four million unemployed Americans.

Ten years ago: The Pentagon let it be known that it would not permit a race between the Army and Navy to be the first to launch a U.S. satellite.
